

ANGLO-FRENCH ENTENTE NEARING END AFTER POINCARE'S SPEECH SURVEY OF BRITISH PRESS SHOWS

France Tearing up Treaty of Versailles" Says One Paper
—Baldwin, Nevertheless, Will Submit to German
Note—Dissension is Expected.

London, July 16.—The end of the Anglo-French entente has been brought appreciably nearer by Premier Poincare's Sunday speech, according to widespread opinion in Great Britain today.

The speech appears to end hope that Great Britain will be able to continue to cooperate with France upon reparations issue.

British newspapers were almost unanimous in denouncing the French Premier's declarations.

"Premier Poincare tells us in advance that he intends to reject the British reparations reply to Germany and that France intends to hold the Ruhr," said the Chronicle, the personal organ of former Premier Lloyd George. "Premier Poincare said that France will concede nothing and he has made it plain that Great Britain must follow wherever he dictates. France is prosperous but refuses to pay her debts. Meanwhile Mr. Poincare tells us France is suffering but she is unmindful of the sufferings of Italy and Belgium, as well as ourselves, who bore the burden of the great war. France continues to tear up the treaty of Versailles by her illegal invasion of the Ruhr.

Indications that Premier Baldwin is having trouble within the cabinet were intimated by an editorial in the Tory organ, Morning Post which took a more kindly view of the French policy and denounced pressure upon France as "German propaganda."

It is semi-officially learned that Premier Baldwin will complete the draft of the British reply to the German reparations note and then submit it to France, giving Premier Poincare a chance to reject it. England then would be in a position to pursue her own independent course.

The cabinet will meet tomorrow or Wednesday when Premier Baldwin will be compelled to deal with the "die hard" pro-French members or place himself in a precarious position. No matter which way he decides, it is likely that the dissensions over the reparations issue will be increased.

Premier Poincare in his speech at Senlis, France, replied to the address of Premier Baldwin recently before the British house of commons. He said:

"Since the signing of the armistice France has not ceased to make concessions and it is false to represent her as an egotist and indifferent to the remainder of Europe. We have reached the end of concessions because, until now, we alone have paid the cost of the treaty that promised us security and reparations and secured us neither. I have always been a warm partisan of the Anglo-French entente, but have understood it left both sides with independence of opinion and frankness of language to conciliate, not subordinate, their interests. In defending her rights France defends those of her allies and works for humanity."

The Ruhr question was not directly mentioned.

DISABLED VETERANS WILL ASK CONGRESS TO PASS BONUS BILL

Extensive Legislative Plans
Decided On By Service Men

Washington, July 16.—An ambitious legislative program for the benefit of ex-service men of the world war will be presented to congress when it convenes in December, the Disabled American Veterans announced today. The outstanding features of this program to which consideration are

- 1—Passage of a bonus bill.
- 2—Establishment of special committees on veterans affairs in both houses.
- 3—Passage of a bill providing for the codification of all veteran laws.
- 4—Retirement of disabled emergency officers on the same basis as regular army officers.
- 5—Amendment of existing civil service laws so that disabled veterans who have attained a passing grade in civil service examination to be placed at the head of the eligible list.

The organization, at its third annual convention at Minneapolis, went thoroughly over the ground of hospitalization insurance and rehabilitation and legislation covering these phases of ex-service men's problems will be incorporated in the legislative program.

The organization will urge that a veteran who has been or who shall be hospitalized for a period of 12 consecutive months shall be rated as totally or permanently disabled and shall receive the same family allowance now given to veterans bureau trainees. Enforcement of a law will be asked to provide hospital care and treatment for all service men regardless of the origin of the disability.

Legislation also will be sought providing for an extension of the present three year period of presumption for tubercular and neuro-psychiatric disabilities developing within a period of three years after the date of discharge, and that all disabilities be construed, if developing within a period of three years or more after the date of discharge as "due to military service."

The organization will urge a speedy and conclusive investigation of the veterans bureau by the select committee of the senate authorized to investigate and that all persons or firms found guilty of profiteering or irregular practices be prosecuted and convicted.

His bill to extend American territorial jurisdiction 12 miles into the seas was permitted to die in the last congress when the administration sought to accomplish the same thing through diplomatic negotiations. Senator Sterling is still hopeful that these negotiations, now being made, will be successful but if they are not, he is ready to put up a fight in the senate when congress reconvenes.

Washington, July 16.—If the state department is not able to get foreign nations to agree to extend the American right of search and seizure from 3 to 12 miles as an additional protection against rum running ships, legislation to extend the three mile limit for the purpose of prohibition enforcement will be urged at the beginning of the 68th congress it was announced here this afternoon by Senator Sterling, Republican of South Dakota.

Sterling is a member of the senate judiciary committee and one of the foremost of the congressional dry leaders.

His bill to extend American territorial jurisdiction 12 miles into the seas was permitted to die in the last congress when the administration sought to accomplish the same thing through diplomatic negotiations. Senator Sterling is still hopeful that these negotiations, now being made, will be successful but if they are not, he is ready to put up a fight in the senate when congress reconvenes.

BUSHNELL DID PAY BLACKMAILERS SAY FEDERAL OFFICERS

John L. Bushnell, prominent Springfield banker, and internationally known sportsman, the center of an alleged blackmail plot, has admitted paying $10,000 to Don Osborn, and his alleged niece, Rosa Putnam, who are lodged in the Montgomery County jail charged with blackmail, according to federal authorities.

H. E. Mau, first assistant U. S. district attorney, said that he had positive information that Bushnell paid $10,000 in Springfield last November to either Miss Putnam or Osborn. No charge will be placed against Bushnell now, according to Mau.

Don Osborn, movie actor, and producer, implicated with the Putnam woman in the case, gave a signed statement Monday, revealing his alleged meetings with Bushnell. In the statement Osborn denied that either he or his niece, Miss Putnam, ever received money from the banker. Some money was paid however to the two missing men, C. M. Madison, and J. A. Ryan, who are said to have been the readers and instigators of the blackmail conspiracy, according to Osborn.

FILE PETITIONS FOR REFERENDUM ON TAFT TAX LAW

Columbus, July 16.—Petitions demanding a referendum on the Taft-Albaugh tax laws, passed by the last legislature over the governor's veto were filed with the secretary of state today.

The initial petitions were from Barnesville, Belmont County and carried fifty signatures.

John E. McCrehen president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, sponsoring the referendum, declared that a large number of other petitions are held in his office awaiting filing.

He was confident that the required six per cent or 38,000 voters of Ohio, will sign petitions for the referendum by which it is hoped to repeal the tax laws.

Governor Donahue and others opposing the bill insist they will add $100,000,000 to the taxes of the state and will be specially oppressive to the cities.

SWEDISH CROWN PRINCE SOON TO WED

Crown Prince Gustav of Sweden, a widower, is soon to marry Princess Louise Mountbatten, a relative of King George of England. The Princess is shown with her mother, at her right, with the Crown Prince, on the Swedish flag at an inspection of the Swedish fleet at Sheerness, England. The Crown Prince's two sons stand just behind him.

YEGGS OBTAIN $500 BY BLOWING FORD AGENCY SAFE EARLY SUNDAY

Third Safe Cracked in County Within Few Weeks—
Many Papers Stolen—Experts Believed Responsible for Safe Cracking by Police.

Authorities here face their third safe blowing mystery in the County within a few weeks with the blasting of the office safe of the Bryant Auto Sales Company, Ford agents, Market and Green Streets, early Sunday morning, when yeggs escaped with about $500 in cash and valuable papers.

The robbery was not discovered until nearly eight o'clock Sunday morning when Police were notified. Police of Dayton, Springfield and other cities have also been asked to aid in tracing the yeggs. Monday, efforts of authorities to find the trail of the robbers had brought no results.

Mortgages, notes and securities, although valuable to the robbers, were represented in the loot. Police hope the yeggs may be apprehended if they attempt to realize on these papers or to dispose of them. The other loot was in cash, representing receipts taken in after bank closing hours. A complete invoice of the loss will not be completed before Monday evening or Tuesday morning, officials of the company say.

Although the robbery took place in a building next door to the county jail where Sheriff Morris Sharp and Deputy John Baughn were sleeping and within a half-square of Police Headquarters, officers had no intimation it had taken place. City Commissioner Harry Fisher, Livsey Apartments, North Detroit Street, was awakened by the explosion about 12:45 o'clock. He arose and went to a window and heard an automobile traveling west on Main Street at a high rate of speed. T. C. James, grocer, East Market Street, opposite the agency, was aroused but did not make a report of the incident.

The yeggs gained entrance to the building by using a step-ladder to get across to an unlocked rear window. The window is directly in the rear of the Osterly Millinery, next door, robbed several weeks ago. The open window let the yeggs into a rear workroom, formerly the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A., and from there they had access to all parts of the plant. "The office is in the front, within full view of the street."

Police believe the work was that of expert cracksmen. Although there was no evidence that the blast was muffled, the charge of nitro-glycerine used blew the doors off the safe without breaking glass or disturbing furniture in the office. Police believe two explosions were used to open both doors. The contents of the safe were swept clean. Parts of the fuse used correspond to the fuse used by cracksmen who blew two other safes in the County recently.

The yeggs found a repeating shotgun owned by E. R. Bryant, owner of the agency and brother-in-law of Henry Ford, Detroit manufacturer, in a wash room. The gun was not loaded, but the thieves filled the chambers from a box of shells near-by. The loaded gun was found in the office and officers believe the thieves would have used it in self defense had they been surprised at their work. After the robbery they are thought to have made their way out the front door, locked with a spring lock, and escaped in an automobile. The safe was insured. It was wrecked by the explosions.

The call register at Police Headquarters shows that Police were not in the business section at the time the robbery is thought to have taken place. They did not hear the explosions.

The safe is the third in Greene County victimized by cracksmen in the last few weeks. A yegg who blew the safe of the Dewline Milling Company mill, Old Town, got only $35 for his pains. Two weeks ago yeggs obtained several hundred dollars after they had blown the safe in the Wells and Wead general store, Yellow Springs.

DONAHEY TO MEET CRUISER.

Columbus, July 16.—The light cruiser Wilmington, assigned to the Ohio naval militia by the navy department, will leave Portsmouth, N. H., Thursday, according to a communication received by Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson, from Captain Anthony Mickett, commanding officer of the naval militia. The vessel will be met by Governor Donahue and staff July 24 at Quebec. It is scheduled to arrive in Cleveland at noon, July 30, where it will anchor over night and proceed to Toledo next day.

MAJORITY OF THE PHILIPPINE CABINET QUILTS

Hands of Governor General Wood Tied By Resignations

ONE MEMBER REMAINS

President or Congress May Be Called Upon to Settle Crisis.

Manila, July 16.—Following almost continuous conferences for 48 hours at the home of Manuel Quezon, president of the senate and Filipino political leader, the Philippine cabinet, with the exception of Vice Governor Eugene A. Gilmore, who is secretary of public instruction, signed a document tendering their resignations which were submitted to Governor General Leonard Wood today.

This marks a crisis in the relationship between the governor general and native Filipinos in the government which has been strained some months and presents a problem that probably only congress or the president will be able to solve.

It was understood today that Quezon and Speaker Roxas of the House, will tender their resignations from the board of control of which Governor Wood is the third member, thus leaving Governor Wood without constitutional co-operators in the conduct of the government. Since Quezon controls the legislature that body is not expected to co-operate with the Governor General.

General Wood's office had no comment to make early today. It was understood an effort was being made to patch up the differences existing over the reinstatement of Officer Conley, American head of the gambling squad. Conley was prosecuted by Secretary of the Interior Jose Laurel on what was declared to have been a "frameup" and when the prosecution failed, Governor Wood asked his reinstatement.

KING'S INFLUENCE FELT BY PREMIER IN SPEECH SUNDAY

Rome, July 16.—The conciliatory tone of Premier Mussolini's speech on electoral reforms in the chamber of deputies Sunday was believed today to be due to influence exerted by King Victor Emmanuel.

Newspapers interpreted the speech as "the beginning of a new era." While Mussolini declared that the Fascist had power in their hands and "intended to keep it," he intimated that the collaboration of other political parties would be welcomed.

Premier Mussolini denied that he wants parliament abolished, but added: "What is liberty? There is no absolute liberty. Is there liberty of the press in Russia or any liberty such as we enjoy?"

Two motions favorable to the Fascist government were passed by big majorities, one being a vote of confidence.

DRIVER KILLED IN MOTOR RACES

Columbus, O., July 16.—Officials of the Columbus Driving park today are seeking means of preventing another such accident as the one yesterday in which Philip D. Boone, 32, Newark, was killed, and five other automobile race drivers were injured, due to a blinding cloud of dust at the start of the 100 mile run.

None of the injured drivers were seriously hurt. Ormington Riegel, 18, son of State Director of Education Riegel, was badly bruised. Chester Hammock, Newark; Arthur Castle, Columbus, C. C. Runkle, Detroit and R. Colther, Springfield, were the other drivers injured.

Miss Ellen O'Neill, 20, and Miss Ella Smith, 21, both of Columbus, are in hospitals today, seriously injured, the victims of two Sunday auto accidents.

BEGIN TO ORGANIZE STEEL WORKERS

Gary, Ind., July 16.—Work of organizing the 40,000 steel workers in this industrial region was begun here today with the appearance of three organizers representing the national organization committee of the American Federation of Labor.

Particular efforts were centered upon the 12,000 workers in Gary of the U. S. Steel Corporation. F. A. Detrick, president of the Lake County Trades Unionists announced that the support of the 15,000 members of the county labor unions would be accorded the organizers.

Both moral and financial support will be furnished them, Detrick said after conferring with the trio.

Leading Lawyer Charged With Bribing Juror

William J. Fallon, one of the most prominent criminal lawyers in New York City, is under Federal indictment on the charge of bribing Charles W. Rendigs, cloak and suit manufacturer, when the latter was a juror in prosecution of Durrell-Gregory and Company, Inc., on the charge of using the mails to defraud in an alleged bucketshop case. Rendigs is charged with having received $2,500 from the attorney. Strangely enough, Rendigs appeared as a juror in the subsequent trial of Edward M. Fuller and William F. McGee, confessed bucketshop keepers, whose attorney was Fallon. In this trial there was a disagreement, Rendigs voting for acquittal. Later Fuller and McGee pleaded guilty.

NINE PERSONS INJURED WHEN TRAINS CRASH

Subway Cars in New York
In Rear End Collision.

NO FATALITIES

Passenger Coaches Crash
Into Empty Leaving
Barns

New York, July 16.—Nine persons were injured, none believed fatally, when two subway trains of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company crashed in a rear-end collision at Two Hundred and Seventh Street and Jerome Avenue early today.

Six of the injured were rushed to Fordham hospital. The others were given emergency treatment and taken to their homes. Many other passengers suffered minor bruises.

One train was an empty, being shunted from the Interborough Company's car barns. This train, officials explained, cut in ahead of the oncoming express train.

Two cars of empty train were virtually demolished. All the injured were in the first car of the express train. At the point of the collision the subway trains operate on an elevated structure in the open. Guard rails kept the cars from plunging to the street, officials said.

The impact hurled passengers from their seats. The motorman said he was unable to stop his train when the injuries are the most serious of those who were hurt.

BRITISH DID NOT "TWO TIME" NATIONS

London, July 16.—Great Britain did not "double cross" the other powers in deciding to create a powerful naval base at Singapore, Lieutenant Colonel Leopold Amery, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, announced in the house of commons this afternoon. He said that the British delegates to the Washington conference received freedom of action regarding the Singapore naval base. The improvements at Singapore call for an outlay of more than $40,000,000.

PERSHING TO VISIT TRAINING CAMPS

Washington, July 16.—Desiring of obtaining first hand information as to progress being made in the civilian training camps, Gen. John J. Pershing, chief of staff of the army, today started on an inspection tour of the 15 principal military training camps of the country.

More than two months will be consumed by General Pershing in reviewing the work of organizing a civilian component of the army and he will travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific taking in both the northern and southern borders.

DEVELOPMENT OF ALASKA IS PROHIBITIVE

President Avoids Promise
Of Further Expenditure

PARTY AT FAIRBANKS

Harding Believes Government Should Encourage Private Capital

Fairbanks, Alaska, July 16.—Opening the entire day on the government railway as it skirted alongside mammoth glaciers and sleeping at night in the train on a siding were the experiences of President Harding and his party's first journey into the heart of Alaska.

The president got his first glimpse of the region to develop which the preceding administration sunk a vast sum on coal mines under navy supervision and which cost the administration $57,000,000 for construction of the road.

As a result of the experiment it is revealed to the president that while the whole of Alaska territory is rich in possibilities, the cost of development is almost prohibitive, under present methods and management of American industry. Thus, while the president brings to Alaska a message of hope and encouragement, he has carefully avoided so far, and will avoid in the future, uttering any word which might imply that the government is willing to make further expenditures to hasten land development.

Whatever may have been the president's thoughts about Alaska before leaving Washington, his trip has caused him to set his face resolutely against any further attempts by the government to launch any new enterprise here or sink more millions in the effort to build up industry here.

The president rode in comfort and ease in an up-to-date Pullman coach on the railway, but the experience will not change his views which are now entertained by him and which are toward private, not public, ownership and operation of all railroads. Nor will the navy department's experiment in the opening and operation of coal mines alter his belief that the government should keep out of the coal business. On the contrary, the president is likely to become more firm in the position that the most the government can do for Alaska is to loosen up to some degree regulations regarding overland mineral deposits and forests to the end that private capital may be encouraged to come in and take hold of the task of development.

Americans who braved the hardships and privations to come upon this land and pioneer the way to development of its marvelous resources are doomed to disappointment in their hope that the government would aid them. Not only has the president refrained from extending any promise of assistance toward mineral and agricultural development, but also disappointed those who make a living by the fishing industry.

The presidential party breakfasted and viewed Mine Three on the way back through Matanuska valley, where real experiments in the agriculture business have been made with a fair degree of success.

The visit of the president to Alaska has thrown considerable light on the methods employed by Wall Street financiers to unload upon the government railroad properties which have since by expenditure of many millions been made part of Alaska's railroad system. There is a strong probability that upon the return of the party to Washington an investigation by congress will be urged.

EXCITEMENT HIGH AS MINNESOTA IS VOTING FOR SENATOR

St. Paul, Minn., July 16.—This state which for years has been agreed upon as a Republican bastle, gave the old guard a thrill today as voters of the state went to the polls to choose a successor to the late United States Senator Knute Nelson.

Republicans without exception were uneasy of the result, but the contest admittedly was between the Republican candidate—Governor J. A. C. Preis and Mangus Johnson, the standard bearer of the Farmer-Labor party.

Rainy weather admittedly would hurt the chances of Governor Preis because farmers then would quit their work in the grain harvest fields and go to the polls. They have given solid backing to Johnson. Heretofore farmer votes have been counted as in the Republican count before they were cast.

STRIKE IS ENDING
Lode, July 16.—Striking British dock workers began returning to their posts today and the strike appeared to be on the point of collapse.

BAYLIFFS DROP CRACKBALL GAME SUNDAY BY CLOSE COUNT TO CINCINNATI OUTFIT

By WONES

In one of the best games ever played at Washington Park the Xenia Bayliffs lost to the Coca Colas of Cincinnati Sunday afternoon by a 2 to 1 score. Herman of the Bayliffs losing the pitcher's battle to Gentry.

In four of the nine innings the Bayliffs had men resting on the sacks waiting for the little bingle that would have put across the necessary runs to sew up the contest but the locals seemed to be lacking in this respect. An error cost them the game.

Webb Jones who was slated to do the hurling for the locals, calling Manager Bayliff Saturday night saying he would be unable to be here. Bayliff obtained Bob Herman who has been pitching for Brookville, and the big fellow twirled a fine game walking one and fanning four. Herman was a bit wild at the start but as the game progressed he grew better.

He will probably be signed by Manager Bayliff. Gentry, on the mound for the soft drink lads, also pitched a steady game. He kept the hits well scattered and succeeded in fanning four of the local batsmen while he walked one. The Coca did not support him any too well.

Furnace was the star of the contest with three bingles one of them paving the way for the Bayliffs' only run. He also made several nice stops around third. Shuey played well at the keystone sack, accepting seven chances without an error. F. Leachy robbed several of the visitors of hits in center field and had five put outs to his credit. Early played well at short and scored the only tally for the Bayliff bunch.

Both teams battle along on even terms until the last half of the sixth when the Bayliffs got busy and made a marker. Early was safe after O'Keefe had muffed Deveny's throw. Early continuing to second. Furnace bunted down the third base line and both runners were safe. Gentry made a wild throw on which Early scored. Furnace going second. Shuey was out. Deveny to O'Keefe while Furnace took third on the out. Tucker hit to center and Clemsy made a nice throw to a hit. Leachy was hit. F. Leachy hit sharply to left but Borgman made a nice catch that retired the side. The popmakers swung into action in

RESERVES COLLECT EASY VICTORY FROM DAYTON TEAM 11-3

Playing steady ball behind Ciphers, the Xenia Reserves defeated the D. M. W. Club of Dayton at Reserve Park Sunday afternoon 11 to 3.

The locals ound Putterbaugh fairly easy, collecting 13 hits off his delivery which they turned to good account in several innings. One big inning, however put the Reserves over as they scored seven runs in the fourth by more than batting around.

One run each in the first and second had given them a two run lead to enter the ninth. A error by Ryan and singles by Owens, Botorff, Mustard, Leachy, Wilson and Ciphers and Ackerman's timely triple iced the game, with seven smackers. All of the visitors' runs came in the seventh on an error by Mustard, a single by Ryan, doubles by O. Landis and Baker and a pass to Hartley.

Leachy featured the attack of the locals with four hits in five trips to the plate, one an extra base smash that enable him to score with the second, Wilson and Botorff also hit well and the play of Owens and Ackerman shone brilliantly. Ryan collected three hits in our trips to lead the visitors in batting.

OPEN AIR MEETING IS STAGED SUNDAY

The Rev. E. W. Middleton, recently resigned pastor of the First Reformed Church, was the principal speaker at a "K. K. Kamp meeting" held at Kellers Grove, southeast of Xenia, Sunday afternoon, which packed the grove to capacity.

The services opened with three band selections, "The Star Spangled Banner," "America" and "Onward Christian Soldiers." The Caesar Creek double mixed quartette sang three selections, followed by a Xenia Male Quartette which sang three selections.

Mr. E. H. Clevenger led the singing, and the Rev. R. E. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the scripture lesson. Prayer was pronounced by Rev. C. N. Smith, of New Jasper.

Rev. Mr. Middleton spoke on the subject "A Man in Christ," bringing out the religious needs of today.

The foremost needs in religion today, according to the speaker, are the following three, it must be many; it must be brotherly, and it must be scripturally spiritual.

The Rev. Mr. Middleton made an appeal for a better life on the part of his hearers, many responding to the call for converts.

The Rev. Mr. Middleton, said Monday that about twenty-five petitions had been circulated over the county, gaining signatures requesting the construction of a large county church. The organization behind the movement is known as The American Christian Church Union, according to Rev. Middleton, and several hundred names have been attached to the petitions.

The Live Wire Class of the Lumberton Sunday School, will hold an ice cream festival at the home of R.B. McKay on the Wilmington pike, Thursday evening, July 19. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

AUTHORITIES SEEK HOME FOR YOUNG BOY

Does anyone want a lad of 13 willing to work and in desperate need of care and a home?

Juvenile Court officials now have the boy in their charge and are lending efforts in search of a suitable home for him.

Motherless, and without the care of near relatives, the future of the lad has been put into the hands of the authorities, who will be glad to get in touch with anyone interested in the case.

Kramer Eats Anything Set Before Him Now

"Tanlac put an end to a mighty bad case of indigestion for me, and gave me the appetite and energy of a sailor," declared Charles W. Kramer, a machinist, of 820 Eagle Ave., N. E., Cleveland, Ohio, recently.

"Why, I'm eating pork, sauer kraut, pastries and everything now and I have gained ten pounds."

"Before taking Tanlac, I had a hot acid feeling and awful cramps in my stomach, and gas bloated me up until my heart felt like it would stop beating. I was constipated, had chills, headaches and dizzy spells, and was so nervous I couldn't sleep."

GRANVILLE JONES INTERESTS LARGE CHAUTAUQUA CROWD

With hundreds in attendance at the opening programs of the Redpath Chautauqua and with enthusiasm shown over the attractions presented this year's Chautauqua promises to be most successful.

In spite of the intense heat there was a good attendance at the first program Sunday afternoon when the Grosjean Company gave a unique and enjoyable concert.

They gave a diversified program introducing the marimba-xylophone, organ, chimes, saxophone, drums, piano, and vocal numbers. A novel feature of the program was a number played on a musical saw, a padded mallet being used to produce the notes. Readings interspersed the program.

Preceding the regular Chautauqua program of the evening a union service was held by all of the churches of the city the sermon being given by the Rev. B. B. Uhl of the Lutheran church. Rev. Uhl took for his theme "Materialism," emphasizing especially the folly of modern materialism.

He defined materialism as a doctrine that teaches that matter and its activities constitutes the entire universe and denies that theoretically at least, that there is a God, and that there is an immortality of the soul. He spoke of the absorption of the average person in the material affairs as proof of the existence of a modern materialism but expressed his faith in the final failure of materialism and the triumph of Christianity.

Following the sermon the Grosjean Company gave a delightful prelude to the lecture of the evening which was given by Granville Jones of Arkansas on "The Philosophy of a Hill-Billy."

Mr. Jones painted a vivid word picture of the life of a "Hill-Billy," a name applied to the dwellers in the Ozark Mountains, presenting their rugged virtues and eccentricities in a way that was both humorous and sympathetic.

He spoke of the three great principles instilled in the heart of the "Hill-Billy" by training from earliest childhood, faith in God, faith in country and faith in his fellow man.

Using these three points as the basis for his address he made a powerful protest against the present day pessimism that would make it appear that the Church is failing in its great mission, that our government is all wrong that the courts are corrupt and that present day young people are growing up in evil.

He affirmed his own faith in God as the Maker and Ruler of mankind; his belief that the government, of the United States is the greatest, in the world and has had throughout its history the finest and clearest rulers that the world has ever known. He made a powerful plea for respect for law and in an humorous defense of the young people of the present day plead for faith in the innate goodness of the young people.

The address throughout was brimming with wit and humor and was enthusiastically received. Mr. Jones, who is an attorney, has been for many years on the lecture platform.

The morning sessions opened Monday with a lecture by Wallace Bruce Ansberry.

Monte Cristo Up-to-Date

AFTER a search that led through untold hardships, the Count of Monte Cristo found the secret cavern. Gold, gems and untold wealth were his.

But think of this! Every day, simply by spending a few minutes running through the advertising columns of this paper, you can find a wealth of things that Monte Cristo could never know. Things that make your life rich in comforts! Countless conveniences that iron out the mechanics of existence! Economies that bring within your easy reach, things that once were priceless!

We sometimes overlook the important role that advertising plays in making our lives pleasant and altogether livable. Advertising is as much a part of today's life as electricity, antiseptic surgery or automobiles. It keeps us up-to-date on the many things we need in order to live profitable, happy and useful lives. It presents for our approval articles of all kinds and for all purposes. The requirements of each member of the family are met by advertised offers of good merchandise of proved value.

The advertisements save time, money and effort for those who read them and follow their guidance. They are practical guarantees of satisfaction.

Don't put down this paper without reading the advertisements

NOT YET BUT SOME DAY

HOW TWO PORPOISES BROUGHT THOUGHT OF GOD TO A BOY.

The following extract from an article in the American Magazine entitled: "I was born in a storm at sea," explains itself, and we think it very interesting:

"Every boy reaches an age when he struggles with the problem of a personal God. A deep experience of this sort is associated in my mind with the jib boom. We were rolling lazily in a light air. All forenoon I had been on the jib boom, watching a pair of porpoises play around the bows. At length they finished their play, and settled down to lead the ship for a while, as they had a habit of doing.

"The longer I watched them, the more I began to fear for their safety. Two days before, the mate had harpooned a porpoise, and the horror of it was still fresh in my mind. A porpoise is a mammal. It has warm blood by the bucketful; it squeaks and groans when it is hurt. A good-sized specimen will weigh three hundred pounds. To see such a creature harpooned and hauled out of the water on the end of the iron—the blood and struggle of it, the dumb sounds of the victim—had caused a sudden revulsion in my whole nature. I could not eat a mouthful of that porpoise. Now here were two more placing themselves in prime position to be slaughtered. And as if in answer to my worst fears, at that moment the mate mounted the fore-castle head and peered over the buffalo.

"Hello—porpoises!" he cried in great excitement, sighting them and me together. 'Why didn't you sing out?'

"They just arrived, sir," I lied glibly.

"Well, keep them there. I'll run and get the harpoon."

"Keep them there! What could I do? I had nothing to throw at them; porpoises are not easily frightened. Surely, I cried in agony, God will not permit this awful thing to happen again. And suddenly I realized that this was a test of Him. While sounds of running broke out along the deck, I burst into fervent prayer.

"O God, I prayed, 'if there really is a God, and if You have power to do things, send these porpoises away. Send them away quick, before the mate gets the harpoon rigged. It depends on this, whether I will believe in You or not. If I don't want these porpoises killed, it seems to me You ought to feel the same way. Warn them, God! You must have the power. Give me a sign.'

"There was no time for more. The mate had rigged the harpoon, and now stood at the knight heads poised in his right hand. A row of grinning faces leaned over the buffalo. The porpoises had not moved. A moment passed while the mate shifted his stand, so that the stroke would go clear of the bobstays. My heart sank like lead. But at that instant a wonderful thing happened. As if in obedience to a sudden command, the two dun-colored bodies turned abruptly to starboard, gathered quick headway, and left the path of the vessel. I could scarcely believe my eyes.

"Shoot, sir! They're going!" cried a dozen voices.

"The mate flung the harpoon, but it fell far short. The men hauled in the empty iron; after a while they all went away. I sat on the jib boom, motionless and overwhelmed. I had seen a miracle. Why, I had caused it—it had been sent to me! That awed me, yet I felt wonderfully safe and secure. I had proved God's presence, had almost heard His voice. I tried to imagine the nature of the divine command that I had seen obeyed. God could hear, then; He was close at hand. The emptiness of the ocean surrounding me was His, the wind and the wave, and the fishes of the deep. How could I doubt that I was His also?"

CABINET TROUBLES CAN'T WORRY GEORGE.

Representative E. R. Ackerman, of Plainfield, N. J., is back from his forty-seventh ocean voyage—this time from England, with a gold medal as a champion stamp collector and an interesting story of King George's passion for philately. Mr. Ackerman, in Washington today, where he is getting ready for the forty-eighth voyage, is exhibiting the medal presented him at the recent London exhibition for the best collection of five and ten cent United States stamps of the issue of 1847.

The high light in Mr. Ackerman's visit to London, however, was the reception tendered the exhibitors by King George at Buckingham Palace. It took place when Great Britain was without a Prime Minister, the interim of the resignation of Bonar Law and the accession of Stanley Baldwin, when the problem of selecting a new Premier was up to the King and was the chief concern of the British people and their Government. Nevertheless, King George spent an entire afternoon with the stamp collectors interestedly going over the various collections submitted to him and exhibiting his own.

According to Mr. Ackerman, an authority on philately, King George is a real lover of rare stamp issues and his private collection ranks with the best. Cabinet troubles failed to disturb him on that particular day and he took great delight in viewing hundreds of pages of the priceless little colored engravings.

Representative Ackerman's visit to the Philippines will be a combination of business and pleasure, for he goes to study the situation in Uncle Sam's island possessions as a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

OHIO FARM BUREAU HEADS TO PARLEY

Columbus, July 16.—The special midsummer meeting of farm bureau representatives will be a working conference, according to plans approved by the executive committee of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation at their meeting last week. The meeting will be held in Columbus on July 23 and 24. At least one farmer representative from each county in Ohio is expected to be present. The meeting has been called by farm bureau officials because of the rapid development of plans for co-operative marketing, and other activities of organized farmers of the state. In calling the meeting the leaders of the state organization are asking the delegates to come prepared to assist in mapping out a program for future work of farm organizations, particularly the efforts directed toward improved m-

BEEKEEPERS TO MEET.

Columbus, July 16.—Buckeye beekeepers will meet here for a conference to determine the procedure of combating foul brood, a contagious disease which is affecting honey bees throughout the state. The conference has been called by Charles W. Truax, director of agriculture. Specialists will be present. The disease, which spreads rapidly through bee colonies, is menacing the entire country, but Ohio is much worse off than other states, Mr. Truax said.

Ramekin Tomatoes: Scald and peel six small tomatoes. Butter six individual ramekins (or small glass baking dishes) and put one tablespoon of plain white sauce into each. Add the whole tomato and pour a little more of the white sauce over the top (in all, you will need one cup of white sauce). Sprinkle with chopped parsley and one tablespoon of grated onion. Stand the six dishes in a baking tin, and bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes. Serve hot.

Chocolate Bread Puddings: Soak one-half cup of stale bread crumbs in one cup of scalded milk. Melt one-half square of unsweetened chocolate, add to it three tablespoons of granulated sugar and enough milk (taken from the bread and milk) to make the right consistency to pour. Now combine this chocolate mixture with the bread and milk, add a pinch of salt, one-eighth teaspoon of ground cinnamon, a few drops of vanilla and one beaten egg, and turn all into a buttered pudding dish.

Bake for 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve hot with a hard sauce. Escalloped Eggs: Make one and one-half cups of ordinary white sauce (by thickening a cup and a half of sweet milk with a little flour, adding one teaspoon of butter, and salt to season) and pour this sauce into a buttered baking dish. Alternately with a layer of sliced, hard-boiled eggs. You will need six cold, hard-boiled eggs in all. Sprinkle the dish with salt, cover with crumbs dot with bits of butter and bake in a hot oven till the sauce bubbles up through the crumbs. Serve at once. Tomato Jelly Salad: This is a very popular salad for 'special occasions.' It is moulded in little tomato-shaped aluminum moulds, so that the jelly resembles a tomato when turned out of the mould onto lettuce. Soak one and one-fourth tablespoons of granulated gelatin in one-half cup of cold tomato juice until the gelatin swells. In the meantime heat two cups of extra tomato juice with five whole cloves and after reaching the boiling point, let it continue to boil for one minute. Remove the hot juice from the range, add swollen gelatin into it, and stir till gelatin is dissolved. Now strain the liquid into the individual toma-

TEARS

Life's a round of cares and joys. Days of peace and days of noise. Tasks to do and games to play. Clouds that come and blow away. Sunshine, laughter, grief and rain. Like the links which make a chain. Follow one another here. In the making of a year.

Each is born and each must die. Each shall smile and each shall sigh.

Just as winter brings the snow, So shall sorrow bring his woe. But when winter passes on, June returns to everyone, And we learn throughout the years

Very natural things are tears. God has fashioned every eye. With its glistening tear-supply. Proving, as this life we keep. All must some day grieve and weep. Should this be your hour for grief, Spurn the voice of unbelief—All about you, great or low, Share or shall share in your woe.

Not alone you suffer pain. Not alone for you the rain; Life has brought you griefs to bear.

This is now your time of care. But the smiling face you see May tomorrow trouble's be. And the heart you fancy glad Only yesterday was sad.

Today's Talk

THE DIFFICULT THING

It's our difficult problems that make us all that we are.

Even the easy things which we now do, were once difficult for us. Else it would be a very discouraging world in which to live.

It is hard for us to remain quiet and patient in the face of hurts—but that is the wisest way. For there is little intentional desire in the hearts of people to hurt. But why is it that we dwell so long upon them? And why is that the good turn, the thoughtful act on the part of some one who loves us, passes so quickly?

When things run smoothly we laugh and are light in heart, but when the difficult thing comes to our door, we weep.

Yet there are those who have formed the habit of being happiest when they are tackling the most difficult things.

I know of a contractor who advertises that he makes a specialty of difficult foundations.

I see no reason why we shouldn't all make a specialty of difficult foundations. Surely no other foundation is worth building.

I recently read in a newspaper of a famous American man whose story was summed up as follows: Forty dollars (the amount he started with) forty failures, forty millions!

If we do the difficult thing first, too, we may be assured in advance that we can finish the rest.

And this is assurance sufficient to start anything, isn't it?

LOCAL DELEGATES ATTEND MEETING OF SOCIETY IN DAYTON

Raymond Stiles, president, Harry Williams, delegate and Arthur Reynolds, alternate, of Beta Beta Chapter, Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity were among the 700 delegates, to the seventh annual convention of the organization, registered Sunday afternoon, at the Gibbons Hotel, Dayton convention headquarters.

Eighteen other members of the local chapters will attend the convention each evening of the remaining sessions. Sunday was devoted to the registration of delegates and a reception arranged by Dayton sorority girls. The reception was held from 2 to 5 o'clock, in the afternoon and from 8 to 10 o'clock in the evening.

A business meeting was scheduled from 10 o'clock until noon Monday. Another session was held from noon to three o'clock, Monday afternoon.

Convention business will be discussed from nine to 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. A group picture will be taken at one o'clock in the afternoon, followed by a trip to the N. C. R. at 2:15 in the afternoon.

A parade through the downtown Dayton business district will be staged at 5:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening. A stag banquet will follow at six o'clock. A theater party for visiting girls will be held Tuesday night at eight o'clock at the Victory theater.

Election of officers and business sessions will take up the larger part of Wednesday. Business meetings are to be held from 10 o'clock in the morning until noon and from 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon until 3:30 o'clock.

A grand ball at the Greystar will start at 8:30 o'clock closing the convention.

NO HELP FROM AMERICA

Berlin, July 16.—"Germany should give up the illusion that any help is coming from America," declared ex-Premier Lerchenfeld of Bavaria in a speech at Munich. Lerchenfeld has returned after an extended tour of the United States. He declares that the articles of Lloyd George are making no impression on the public mind of America and said the speech of Admiral Sims branding stories of allied U-boat atrocities as war propaganda was simply ignored by the American public. Among the eleven or twelve million German-Americans in the United States, Lerchenfeld declared, there is lacking that racial consciousness and common faith that unites so strongly the Irish in America. The Germanic element today is all American, he found.

FARMER KILLS SELF.

Bowerstown, O., July 16.—Lorenzo Albough, 58, committed suicide in a barn on his farm near Deersville, by hanging. Despondency, due to ill health, is believed to have been the motive.

Sandusky, O., July 16.—Joseph O'Dea, 21, watchman on the freight steamer Jupiter, was drowned in Lake Erie while swimming near a dock at Kelley's Island. Marblehead coast guard recovered the body. O'Dea lived at Cleveland.

DOES KISSING RAISE BLOOD PRESSURE?

Dr. Stetler, Ida Flynn, and Arthur Cannon

Dr. Schmack, of Strassburg University, is authority for the statement that kissing is injurious to men, since it raises the blood pressure. When a man kisses a woman, the savant asserted, his blood pressure rises from 130 to 160, while a woman's blood pressure never rises above 119 and generally fluctuates coldly around 100. Dr. Henry Stetler, of the Department of Health, in Chicago, is shown taking the blood pressure of Miss Ida Flynn while she goes through an osculatory specialty with Arthur Cannon. When the instrument was attached to her arm it registered zero, but on Cannon's arm it mounted to 160.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not here, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red blood-cells, and quickly the rub of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes virus-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S. S. S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

Why Jewett Six Succeeds Like This

Look at Jewett's sales success; the chart tells the story. What made it possible?

No sales genius could have put this over. Nothing but startling quality, and performance at the price, could have done it. There are plenty of average satisfactory quality cars around Jewett's price, yet look at Jewett's first 17 months! Why? Why? Surely it is wise to learn of Jewett's qualities before you buy any car.

First, Jewett offers a powerful, sturdy Six at the cost of a Four. Jewett is the only car in the thousand dollar class built by a maker of highest quality cars at $2000 and upwards. The Paige-built Jewett Six is a Paige-designed product through and through. Paige-built motor, Paige-type clutch and transmission, Paige-Timken axles, Paige ball-bearing steering spindles, Paige high-pressure oiling system.

Paige performance—the ability to pass most any car on any hill—the pick-up of 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds in high gear—the flexibility to go 2 to 60 miles an hour in high gear—are characteristics of the Jewett which have won it friends everywhere. And Jewett, like the Paige, is easy riding in spite of its moderate size. It rides easily because its springs are 80 per cent of its wheelbase, because it is a stoutly constructed car—200 pounds heavier—and will not bounce around.

Jewett handles as no car ever handled before, because it has but 11 1/2 lbs. weight for every horsepower. You do not realize how powerful Jewett is compared with average cars until you reach the hood. Jewett's fifty horsepower motor fills the hood. You cannot imagine an emergency which such a car would not out-manuever.

A ten-minute ride in a Jewett, with your own hands on the wheel, will tell you more than all the engineering facts or sales records in the world. You're welcome to drive the Jewett whenever you want—as far as you want—to prove to yourself the Jewett Six is not only the dominating car in the thousand-dollar class, but so fine a car that few need to pay more.

HOW TWO PORPOISES BROUGHT THOUGHT OF GOD TO A BOY.

The following extract from an article in the American Magazine entitled: "I was born in a storm at sea," explains itself, and we think it very interesting:

"Every boy reaches an age when he struggles with the problem of a personal God. A deep experience of this sort is associated in my mind with the jib boom. We were rolling lazily in a light air. All forenoon I had been on the jib boom, watching a pair of porpoises play around the bows. At length they finished their play, and settled down to lead the ship for a while, as they had a habit of doing.

"The longer I watched them, the more I began to fear for their safety. Two days before, the mate had harpooned a porpoise, and the horror of it was still fresh in my mind. A porpoise is a mammal. It has warm blood by the bucketful; it squeaks and groans when it is hurt. A good-sized specimen will weigh three hundred pounds. To see such a creature harpooned and hauled out of the water on the end of the iron—the blood and struggle of it, the dumb sounds of the victim—had caused a sudden revulsion in my whole nature. I could not eat a mouthful of that porpoise. Now here were two more placing themselves in prime position to be slaughtered. And as if in answer to my worst fears, at that moment the mate mounted the fore-castle head and peered over the buffalo.

"'Hello—porpoises!' he cried in great excitement, sighting them and me together. 'Why didn't you sing out?'

"'They just arrived, sir,' I lied glibly.

"'Well, keep them there. I'll run and get the harpoon.'

"'Keep them there! What could I do? I had nothing to throw at them; porpoises are not easily frightened. Surely, I cried in agony, God will not permit this awful thing to happen again. And suddenly I realized that this was a test of Him. While sounds of running broke out along the deck, I burst into fervent prayer.

"'O God,' I prayed, 'if there really is a God, and if You have power to do things, send these porpoises away. Send them away quick, before the mate gets the harpoon rigged. It depends on this, whether I will believe in You or not. If I don't want these porpoises killed, it seems to me You ought to feel the same way. Warn them, God! You must have the power. Give me a sign.'

"There was no time for more. The mate had rigged the harpoon, and now stood at the knight heads poising it in his right hand. A row of grinning faces leaned over the buffalo. The porpoises had not moved. A moment passed while the mate shifted his stand, so that the stroke would go clear of the bobstays. My heart sank like lead. But at that instant a wonderful thing happened. As if in obedience to a sudden command, the two dun-colored bodies turned abruptly to starboard, gathered quick headway, and left the path of the vessel. I could scarcely believe my eyes.

"'Shoot, sir! They're going!' cried a dozen voices.

"The mate flung the harpoon, but it fell far short. The men hauled in the empty iron; after a while they all went away. I sat on the jib boom, motionless and overwhelmed. I had seen a miracle. Why, I had caused it—it had been sent to me! That awe me, yet I felt wonderfully safe and secure. I had proved God's presence, had almost heard His voice. I tried to imagine the nature of the divine command that I had seen obeyed. God could hear, then; He was close at hand. The emptiness of the ocean surrounding me was His, the wind and the wave, and the fishes of the deep. How could I doubt that I was His also?"

CABINET TROUBLES CAN'T WORRY GEORGE.

Representative E. R. Ackerman, of Plainfield, N. J., is back from his forty-seventh ocean voyage—this time from England, with a gold medal as a champion stamp collector and an interesting story of King George's passion for philately. Mr. Ackerman, in Washington today, where he is getting ready for the forty-eighth voyage, is exhibiting the medal presented him at the recent London exhibition for the best collection of five and ten cent United States stamps of the issue of 1847.

The high light in Mr. Ackerman's visit to London, however, was the reception tendered the exhibitors by King George at Buckingham Palace. It took place when Great Britain was without a Prime Minister, the interim of the resignation of Bonar Law and the accession of Stanley Baldwin, when the problem of selecting a new Premier was up to the King and was the chief concern of the British people and their Government. Nevertheless, King George spent an entire afternoon with the stamp collectors interestedly going over the various collections submitted to him and exhibiting his own.

According to Mr. Ackerman, an authority on philately, King George is a real lover of rare stamp issues and his private collection ranks with the best. Cabinet troubles failed to disturb him on that particular day and he took great delight in viewing hundreds of pages of the priceless little colored engravings. Representative Ackerman's visit to the Philippines will be a combination of business and pleasure, for he goes to study the situation in Uncle Sam's island possessions as a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

NOT YET BUT SOME DAY

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Mr. Harry LeSourd left this morning for Lakeside, Ohio, to spend several weeks on an outing.

Mr. George Galloway, the druggist, who with his wife and daughter, have been absent on a trip in the East, returned home this morning.

The genial County Clerk, Mr. S. O. Hale, has worked a metamorphosis in his appearance by parting with his mustache, appearing at his office this morning with a face shaven entirely smooth.

The little dainty-dink ties for men continued in style and will undoubtedly remain through the summer. Of course you have noticed them, and very likely wore one of them, look like a colored shoe string, don't they?

OHIO FARM BUREAU HEADS TO PARLEY

Columbus, July 16.—The special midsummer meeting of farm bureau representatives will be a working conference, according to plans approved by the executive committee of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation at their meeting last week. The meeting will be held in Columbus on July 23 and 24. At least one farmer representative from each county in Ohio is expected to be present. The meeting has been called by farm bureau officials because of the rapid development of plans for co-operative marketing, and other activities of organized farmers of the state. In calling the meeting the leaders of the state organization are asking the delegates to come prepared to assist in mapping out a program for future work of farm organizations, particularly the efforts directed toward improved m-

BEEKEEPERS TO MEET.

Columbus, July 16.—Buckeye beekeepers will meet here for a conference to determine the procedure of combating foul brood, a contagious disease which is affecting honey bees throughout the state. The conference has been called by Charles V. Truax, director of agriculture. Specialists will be present. The disease, which spreads rapidly through bee colonies, is menacing the entire country, but Ohio is much worse off than other states, Mr. Truax said.

TEARS

Life's a round of cares and joys. Days of peace and days of noise. Tasks to do and games to play. Clouds that come and blow away. Sunshine, laughter, grief and rain. Like the links which make a chain. Follow one another here In the making of a year.

Each is born and each must die. Each shall smile and each shall sigh. Just as winter brings the snow. So shall sorrow bring his woe. But when winter passes on, June returns to everyone. And we learn throughout the years

Very natural things are tears. God has fashioned every eye With its glistening tear-supply. Proving, as this life we keep, All must some day grieve and weep. Should this be your hour for grief, Spurn the voice of unbelief—All about you, great or low, Share or shall share in your woe.

Not alone you suffer pain. Not alone for you the rain; Life has brought you griefs to bear. This is now your time of care. But the smiling face you see May tomorrow trouble's be, And the heart you fancy glad Only yesterday was sad.

Today's Talk

THE DIFFICULT THING

It's our difficult problems that make us all that we are.

Even the easy things which we now do, were once difficult for us. Else it would be a very discouraging world in which to live.

It is hard for us to remain quiet and patient in the face of hurts—but that is the wisest way. For there is little intentional desire in the hearts of people to hurt. But why is it that we dwell so long upon them? And why is that the good turn, the thoughtful act on the part of some one who loves us, passes so quickly?

When things run smoothly we laugh and are light in heart, but when the difficult thing comes to our door, we weep.

Yet there are those who have formed the habit of being happiest when they are tackling the most difficult things. I know of a contractor who advertises that he makes a specialty of difficult foundations. I see no reason why we shouldn't all make a specialty of difficult foundations. Surely no other foundation is worth building.

I recently read in a newspaper of a famous American man whose story was summed up as follows: Forty dollars (the amount he started with) forty failures, forty millions!

If we do the difficult thing first, too, we may be assured in advance that we can finish the rest.

And this is assurance sufficient to start anything, isn't it?

LOCAL DELEGATES ATTEND MEETING OF SOCIETY IN DAYTON

Raymond Stiles, president, Harry Williams, delegate and Arthur Reynolds, alternate, of Beta Beta Chapter, Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity were among the 700 delegates, to the seventh convention of the organization, registered Sunday afternoon, at the Gibbons Hotel, Dayton convention headquarters.

Eighteen other members of the local chapters will attend the convention each evening of the remaining sessions. Sunday was devoted to the registration of delegates and a reception arranged by Dayton sorority girls. The reception was held from 2 to 5 o'clock, in the afternoon and from 8 to 10 o'clock in the evening.

A business meeting was scheduled from 10 o'clock until noon Monday. Another session was held from 1 to 3 o'clock, Monday afternoon.

Convention business will be discussed from nine to 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. A group picture will be taken at one o'clock in the afternoon, followed by a trip to the N. C. R. at 2:15 in the afternoon.

A parade through the downtown Dayton business district will be staged at 5:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening. A star banquet will follow at six o'clock. A theater party for visiting girls will be held Tuesday night at eight o'clock at the Victory theater.

Election of officers and business sessions will take up the larger part of Wednesday. Business meetings are to be held from 10 o'clock in the morning until noon and from 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon until 3:30 o'clock.

A grand ball at the Greystone will start at 8:30 o'clock closing the convention.

NO HELP FROM AMERICA

Berlin, July 16.—"Germany should give up the illusion that any help is coming for Germany from America," declared ex-Premier Lerchenfeld of Bavaria in a speech at Munich. Lerchenfeld has returned after an extended tour of the United States. He declares that the articles of Lloyd George are making no impression on the public mind of America and said the speech of Admiral Sims branding stories of allied U-boat atrocities as war propaganda was simply ignored by the American public. Among the eleven or twelve million German-Americans in the United States, Lerchenfeld declared, there is lacking that racial consciousness and common faith that unites so strongly the Irish in America. The Germanic element today is all American, he found.

FARMER KILLS SELF.

Bowestown, O., July 16.—Lorenzo Albough, 58, committed suicide in a barn on his farm near Deersville, by hanging. Despondency, due to ill health, is believed to have been the motive.

Sandusky, O., July 16.—Joseph O'Dea, 21, watchman on the freight steamer Jupiter, was drowned in Lake Erie while swimming near a dock at Kelleys Island. Marblehead coast guard recovered the body. O'Dea lived at Cleveland.

DOES KISSING RAISE BLOOD PRESSURE?

Dr. Steble, Mrs. Anna Lindsey, and Arthur Cannon

Dr. Schmack, of Strassburg University, is authority for the statement that kissing is injurious to men, since it raises the blood pressure. When a man kisses a woman, the savant asserted, his blood pressure rises from 130 to 160, while a woman's blood pressure never rises above 119 and generally fluctuates coldly around 100. Dr. Henry Steble, of the Department of Health, in Chicago, is shown taking the blood pressure of Miss Ida Flynn while she goes through an osculatory specialty with Arthur Cannon. When the instrument was attached to her arm it registered zero, but on Cannon's arm it mounted to 160.

EAST END NEWS

Mr. Charles Brazleton of Chicago, who has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Anna Lindsey for some two weeks, left for his home Sunday morning.

Mrs. Raphael Hancock, who has been the guest of relatives in Atchison, Kansas, and Denver, Colo., has returned. While in Denver Mrs. Hancock visited with Rev. F. M. Liggins and family.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bowen and daughter are guests of relatives in Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Mrs. Fannie Hall of East Church Street, has returned from Middletown, Ohio, where she was called on account of the death of a relative Miss Edith Davis.

Mrs. Eunice Taylor of East Main Street, received word from her daughter Sarah that she had arrived safe in Wrightsville, Ga., where she will visit with her grandmother.

Dr. R. A. Keller and family of Springfield were Sunday guests of

ELEAZOR

Miss Cordelia Miller spent two days in Dayton, the guest of her cousin, Miss Marie Mersker.

Miss Lucy Swindler, entertained the "Count On Us" Class of the Eleazer Church, Thursday evening. After the business meeting, Miss Swindler served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hartscock, Mrs. Daisy Nesbit, and Mr. George Rectores, will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Maddux, at Frankfort, Ohio.

Mr. Laverne Fulton, of Massillon, Ohio, will spend the week-end with Mrs. Thomas Faulkner and family.

Mr. Howard Faulkner attended the funeral of Mr. Russell Haines, at Wilmington, Ohio.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not here, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red blood-cells, and quickly the rub of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes rosy-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Why Jewett Six Succeeds Like This

Look at Jewett's sales success; the chart tells the story. What made it possible?

No sales genius could have put this over. Nothing but startling quality, and performance at the price, could have done it. There are plenty of average satisfactory quality cars around Jewett's price, yet look at Jewett's first 17 months! Why? Why? Surely it is wise to learn of Jewett's qualities before you buy any car.

First, Jewett offers a powerful, sturdy Six at the cost of a Four. Jewett is the only car in the thousand dollar class built by a maker of highest quality cars at $2000 and upwards. The Paige-built Jewett Six is a Paige-designed product through and through. Paige-built motor, Paige-type clutch and transmission, Paige-Timken axles, Paige ball-bearing steering spindles, Paige high-pressure oiling system.

Paige performance—the ability to pass most any car on any hill—the pick-up of 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds in high gear—the flexibility to go 2 to 60 miles an hour in high gear—are characteristics of the Jewett which have won it friends everywhere. And Jewett, like the Paige, is easy riding in spite of its moderate size. It rides easily because its springs are 80 per cent of its wheelbase, because it is a stoutly constructed car—200 pounds heavier—and will not bounce around.

Jewett handles as no car ever handled before, because it has but 11 1/2 lbs. weight for every horsepower. You do not realize how powerful Jewett is compared with average cars until you raise the hood. Jewett's fifty horsepower motor fills the hood. You cannot imagine an emergency which such a car would not out-manuever.

A ten-minute ride in a Jewett, with your own hands on the wheel, will tell you more than all the engineering facts or sales records in the world. You're welcome to drive the Jewett whenever you want—as far as you want—to prove to yourself the Jewett Six is not only the dominating car in the thousand-dollar class, but so fine a car that few need to pay more.

ORDINANCE 236

To Levy Special Assessments for the Improvement of North Detroit Street from Ankeney Mill Road to the North Corporation Line, by Paving, Construction of Curbs and Gutters and Storm Water Sewers: Be It Ordained by the City Commission of the City of Xenia, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That the assessments, costs and expenses of improving North Detroit Street from Ankeney Mill Road to the North Corporation Line, amounting in aggregate to $25,969.13 as reported to the City Commission on the 12th day of July, 1923, by the City Engineer, notice of the filing of which assessment has been given as required by law, be and the same is hereby adopted and confirmed, and that there be and is hereby levied upon the lots and lands bounding and abutting upon said improvement the several amounts reported as aforesaid, which assessments, together with the description of said lots and lands, are now on file in the office of the Auditor of the City of Xenia and which assessments are at the rate of $6.916 per front foot, and are not in excess of the special benefits to said property.

Section 2. That the total assessment against each lot or parcel of land shall be payable in cash within thirty days from and after the passage of this ordinance, or at the option of the owner in nine annual installments, with interest at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection of the same. All cash payments shall be made to the Treasurer of said city. All assessments and installments thereof remaining unpaid at the expiration of said thirty days shall be certified by the City Auditor to the County Auditor, as provided by law to be by him placed on the tax duplicate and collected as other taxes are collected.

Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law. Passed this 12 day of July, 1923. T. H. ZELL, Clerk City Commission. H. L. SMITH, President City Commission. 7-17-17

CANDIDACY OF H. A. SPARKS PUTS FOUR IN COMMISSION FIGHT

The element of contest was injected into the City Commission race this fall with the filing of a candidacy petition by Harry Sparks, merchant, late Saturday night.

The Sparks petition makes a four cornered contest out of the race to fill three vacancies that will exist on the commission at the end of this year. Other candidates are Harry Fisher, Dr. C. G. McPherson and S. M. McKay, all present members, who are candidates to succeed themselves.

Mr. Sparks' petition projects him into the race as a candidate for the regular term of four years. This fact puts him into the scuffle with Mr. Fisher and Dr. McPherson for the two long term offices to be filled. Mr. McKay is a candidate for the short term of two years which represents the unexpired term of two years dating from next January 1, of the late Mayor M. J. Hartley. As he was the only candidate to file for the short term he will have no opposition. Time for filing closed Saturday night at midnight.

Mr. Sparks is now associated with J. Walker Gibney in the operation of the Hutchison and Gibney department store. He is a graduate civil engineer with considerable practicing experience and for some time served as city engineer of Lansing, Mich. Returning here he was superintendent of the Xenia factory of the Robbins and Myers Company during its existence and later assumed managerial duties with the department store, of which he is part owner. His technical knowledge is exploited as giving him particular qualifications for the Commission job.

Commissioner Fisher, also seeking the long term, hopes to succeed himself. His second term, representing six years on the commission ends December 31, 1923. He was a member of the original commission when that form of government was adopted, January 1, 1918. Mr. McKay was appointed by the Commission to fill the unexpired term of Mayor Hartley, who died in February. Because a general election will be held before the expiration of his term it is necessary that he be a candidate. Without opposition he is sure of election and will begin his elected term January 1 and serve two years.

Dr. McPherson has been a member of the Commission only a few weeks. He was appointed by the Commission to succeed Dr. A. D. DeHaven, who resigned to become health commissioner. The term would have expired December 31, and Dr. McPherson will be a candidate for a full new term of four years.

HAIG APPEALS FOR MILITARY DEFENSES

London, July 16.—Earl Haig, commander in chief of the British army at the close of the great war, in a speech today before the Empire Service League, appealed for more powerful military defenses of the British nation.

"An unarmed nation can keep neither the respect nor the friendship of its neighbors," said Earl Haig. "In the interests of peace we former service men stand for adequate defense of the British empire."

"We have seen what unpreparedness visited upon ourselves and our children in the great war."

Earl Haig said that the lack of guns and high explosives almost lost the channel ports for England.

GOVERNOR TO MAKE SIX APPOINTMENTS

Columbus, July 16.—Appointment of a criminal identification director, under the Herbert law, effective this week, naming of the two members of the reestablished clemency board, which replaces the present board of pardons and paroles and appointment of members of the Ohio judicial council, the board of building standards and the Schoenbrun commission the latter three nonpaying jobs, will be up to Governor Donahey this week.

The criminal identification director position pays $3,600 a year. Each member of the bi-partisan clemency board will receive $4,500 a year.

Police Are Investigating First Aerial Murder

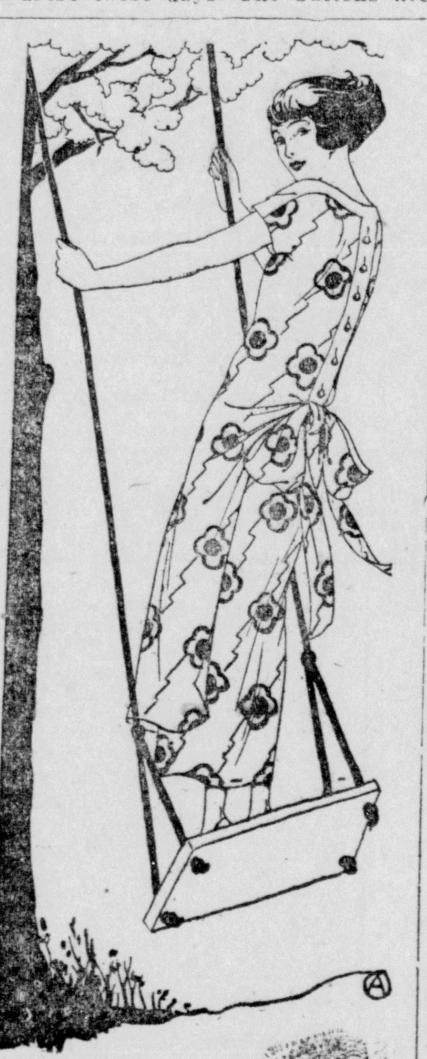

In the double deaths of B. H. DeLay and R. L. Short, Los Angeles police are investigating what is reported to have been the first aerial murder. DeLay, a pilot, had taken Short up for a ride, and both were killed in a crash. DeLay's friends charged that the plane had been tampered with by his enemies before the flight, after several other efforts to kill him had proved unavailing.

Styles BY LENORE

Why isn't a swing as good a way as any of showing an exceedingly smart frock? No doubt the heroine is visiting, and the kiddies of the family have "dared" her to go way up high. But before she does so let us note the details of the frock.

Made with an apron, as you may see and there is no indication of a waistline in the front as you may guess from the way the sides are drawn up into the swag bow behind—one of the smartest things to do to a dress these days. The buttons are white and ball shaped. And the material is almond green and white crepe de chine. In all the range of hot weather fashions, it seems there is a persistent demand among women who show most discrimination in their choice of clothes for these printed silks. Embodying the spirit of summer in color, they are cool and require cleaning less often than solid colors in the summer shades. And with a wide hat, and gray or beige slipper or patent leather with "nude stockings" a printed silk dress will often be suitable for occasions when cottons are too informal.

AUTOS CLAIM TWO

Cincinnati, July 16.—Robert T. Doon, 48, and Charles Feltman, 5, Covington, Ky., were killed and William McDermott, 23, Bellevue Ky., and John Sellers, 26, Ludlow, Ky., were probably fatally injured in automobile accidents yesterday.

Doon is a well known local athlete and former Cincinnati Red player. This brings Hamilton county's automobile fatalities to 78 for the year.

STATE SUSPENDS SALE OF DOLLINGS CO. SECURITIES

Columbus, O., July 16.—Further sale of securities of the R. I. Dollings Company in Ohio, has been suspended, pending action of common pleas court, Norman E. Beck, state commissioner of securities, announced today.

Columbus, O., July 16.—Attorneys for the R. I. Dollings Company brokers and for thirteen stockholders who demanded in common pleas court that the company be placed in the hands of a receiver were preparing today to make specific statements of their case in court Friday.

The thirteen stockholders desire the return of $65,000 said to have been invested in the Dollings corporation, a general accounting of the officers of the company to more than 80,000 stockholders scattered over the United States, and preservation intact of assets of the company during the proceedings, according to Attorneys Williams, Sinks, and Williams for the petitioners.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1.—Officials of the Indiana division of R. L. Dollings and Company today said that the suit for a receivership filed at the home of the company at Columbus, O., would have "no" effect on securities placed throughout this state. Local representatives disclaimed any knowledge of the receivership petition. The company does business in three states, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

SCIENTISTS MEET TO VIEW ECLIPSE

Mexico City, July 16.—Scientists from over all the world are gathering here to view an eclipse of the sun Sept. 10. Some of them hope to obtain data either confirming or disproving Einstein's theory of relativity. The American astronomical commission, presided over by Astronomer Miller, of the Philadelphia observatory, will arrive July 28, and the German commission, headed by Professor Ludendorff, of Leipzig observatory, will arrive some time late this month.

Pietro Laurens, mayor of Mexico City, has declared these scientists guests of honor of Mexico City, commissioning Joaquin Callo, director of the Mexican observatory, to attend them while in Mexico. The eclipse will be visible in Santa Catalina island, California, and at four different points in Mexico—Lower California, Sonora, San Luis Obispo and Durango.

SWIMMER DROWNED

Cincinnati, July 16.—Gordon Spidell, 22, railway mail clerk, drowned in the Ohio river yesterday at Bromley, Ky., while his bride of two months stood on the banks, unable to render him assistance. Spidell was a native of Dayton, Ohio.

$20,000 SALARY PAID TO WOMAN

Miss Bindi M. West, of Port Huron, Mich., has been voted a salary of $20,000 a year by the Women's Benefit Association, of which she is the Supreme Commander. She is a direct descendant of Roger Conant, first Governor of Massachusetts Colony, and the Conant who shared the midnight ride with Paul Revere.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT AT UNLUCKY CORNER

The intersection of Third and Monroe Streets was the scene of another motor accident, Sunday afternoon about three o'clock, when a Chevrolet touring car, driven by Herman Fisher of Columbus Street was struck by a Studebaker touring car of which a party of Dayton people were occupants.

Fisher was driving west on Third Street and the Dayton machine was moving south on Monroe Street. The Fisher machine was turned completely around by the force of the impact, but no one was injured. Both cars were slightly damaged. Many collisions have occurred at this intersection.

COAST TO COAST TRYS IS DELAYED

Mineola, N. Y., July 16.—The "hop-off" for Lieutenant Russell Maughan's second attempt to fly from New York to San Francisco between daylight and dark, was again postponed today.

Failure of mechanics to complete alterations and repairs on Maughan's plane caused the delay. "But I will be on my way before Saturday," Maughan said. "I will not attempt the flight before Wednesday at the earliest. After that it will depend on weather conditions."

AUTO TURNED OVER.

Canton, O., July 16.—Chris Croefas, 35, died in Mercy hospital here from injuries received when an automobile he was driving turned over in a ditch north of the city. He suffered a fractured skull.

THE MISFIT By Jane Plehps

HORACE'S SEARCH IS ENDED Chapter XIV

Many things came blurredly into Horace Crandell's head as he walked toward Etta Blackwell's humble home chief among them the agonizing thought that he might never find Natalie, that in some way she would always escape him. He had no real hope of finding her through Etta, but she would know the addresses of other girls, friends of Natalie's in the days before she married him.

Horace was afraid—afraid his quest would be unsuccessful, yet Beverly had thought it might bring results, and Beverly was a woman, young like Natalie. She might have figured that was what she would do—go to those with whom she had associated happily before trouble came.

With head bent he walked slowly busy with his thoughts. He was but a little ways from the house when he saw a woman emerge pushing a baby carriage. It was Natalie. So surprised was he that he stood for a moment staring, rooted to the spot. All that Craig Harper had said, all he had implied rushed over him. Horace started to follow quickly, then slowed his steps. The street was full of people, he could not talk to Natalie—could not speak to her so. He would follow her, and when she came to a quieter place he would catch up with her.

His heart beat suffocatingly. Natalie at last—but the child—he dared not think—dared not.

He followed, keeping her always in sight until she reached the little triangular park. She found an empty bench, and after carefully turning the carriage to shield the baby from the sun, she sat down. There was something so hopeless, so dejected in her attitude that his eyes misted as he looked; a lump came into his throat.

Evidently she saw no one, her eyes bent on the ground; her hands twisting in her lap. As Horace drew near he saw she was pale almost wan in the bright sunshine. Harper had said she looked ill—she had been ill.

Quietly he stood before her. As his shadow fell she looked up. "Natalie—oh, Natalie—have I found you at last?" Horace said, thrilling as he saw the gleam of joy that for a moment swept her face, but that fleeing left her paler than before.

"Horace!" She gasped his name hoarsely. Then her pride came to the fore, and she dropped her eyes, saying no more.

He sat down beside her.

"Natalie, my dear, have you no greeting for me? I have searched so long for you. Thank God I've found you at last." Horace laid his hand over hers, then took it in his grasp. "Don't you love me anymore, Natalie? Can't you forgive me for the cruel things I said to you—for what I did? You have suffered dear, I can see that, but I also have suffered. And, oh how I have blamed myself. Speak to me dear, tell me you forgive me."

For the first time she looked up, looked at him.

"I never shall forgive you for—marrying me. I left so you could be free—could marry a girl who was not a 'misfit', whom you believed when she told you what she had done. You can divorce me at any time. Marry to please your mother—perhaps if you do she will let you give your wife a little of your time and attention. Or—she may like to watch you playing chess while she sits in a corner." Natalie droned on, scarcely realizing she was talking. She felt she would become hysterical did she allow herself to think of what she was saying.

"Natalie—forgive me. Let me try again? Come back to me, dear. I love you with all my heart and soul. I will make you happy, I swear it—if my devotion can bring you happiness."

The baby stirred, fretted a little. Absently, Natalie bent over the carriage and patted the child into quiet.

"Whose child is it, Natalie?" Horace's voice was hoarse with feeling. His emotion almost strangled him.

"Why Etta's, of course," Natalie answered in a surprised tone, taken out of herself by the question. Then "I am her maid of all work."

"Why, Etta's, of course," Natalie answered in a surprised tone, taken out of herself by the question. Then "I am her maid of all work."

For a moment Horace could not speak, could only stare. More than Natalie knew had he reason now to beg her forgiveness. Etta's baby, Natalie, his Natalie, a maid in that poor home.

He bent his head on his hands and great slow tears trickled through between his fingers.

"Forgive me, Natalie. Oh forgive me!" he pleaded hiding his face.

CONSECRATE NEW CATHOLIC BISHOP

Covington, Ky., July 16.—In the stately cathedral here, under imposing rites, Monsignor Francis W. Howard, former rector of Holy Rosary Church, Columbus, was yesterday consecrated fifth bishop of Covington diocese, which was established in 1853.

Assisting Archbishop Henry Moeller, of Cincinnati, were Right Reverend James Hartly, bishop of Columbus and former superior of Mgr. Howard and Right Rev. John A. Floersch, who but recently was consecrated in Rome to rule over the spiritual destiny of Catholics living within the jurisdiction of Louisville.

AS DELICIOUS AS NECTAR

Is Iced Tea Made From This Recipe With

"E" Brand Orange Pekoe Tea

A wonderful clear, deep amber liquid with a marvelous flavor that amazes and delights you is the new "E" Brand Orange Pekoe Tea. When you try it you feel you have never before dreamed of the possibilities of enjoyment in a glass of iced tea. It is so rich, so fragrant, and has a beautiful color found in no other tea.

For perfect results follow carefully the following simple method of preparing iced "E" Brand Orange Pekoe Tea.

Measure two heaping tablespoonfuls of tea and add two cups of boiling water. Set in warm place where it will not boil and steep for five minutes. Stir well and then strain. While still hot add two cups of sugar and stir until sugar is thoroughly dissolved. This makes a strong, clear, wine-colored syrup that will make ten or twelve glasses of iced tea. Pour the syrup into a bottle and set in refrigerator until ready to serve. For serving fill glasses about one third full of the syrup then add ice and water.

Try this tomorrow and see if you will not say that it is like discovering a wonderful new summer beverage.

ANGLO-FRENCH ENTENTE NEARING END AFTER POINCARE'S SPEECH SURVEY OF BRITISH PRESS SHOWS

France Tearing up Treaty of Versailles" Says One Paper
—Baldwin, Nevertheless, Will Submit to German
Note—Dissension is Expected.

London, July 16.—The end of the Anglo-French entente has been brought appreciably nearer by Premier Poincare's Sunday speech, according to widespread opinion in Great Britain today.

The speech appears to end hope that Great Britain will be able to continue to cooperate with France upon reparations issue.

British newspapers were almost unanimous in denouncing the French Premier's declarations.

Premier Poincare tells us in advance that he intends to reject the British reparations reply to Germany and that France intends to hold the Ruhr, said the Chronicle, the personal organ of former Premier Lloyd George. "Premier Poincare said that France will concede nothing and he has made it plain that Great Britain must follow wherever he dictates. France is prosperous but refuses to pay her debts. Meanwhile Mr. Poincare tells us France is suffering but she is unmindful of the sufferings of Italy and Belgium, as well as ourselves, who bore the burden of the great war. France continues to tear up the treaty of Versailles by her illegal invasion of the Ruhr.

Indications that Premier Baldwin is having trouble within the cabinet were stimulated by an editorial in the Tory organ, Morning Post which took a more kindly view of the French policy and denounced pressure upon France as "German propaganda."

It is semi-officially learned that Premier Baldwin will complete the draft of the British reply to the German reparations note and then submit it to France, giving Premier Poincare a chance to reject it. England, then, would be in a position to pursue her own independent course.

The cabinet will meet tomorrow or Wednesday when Premier Baldwin will be compelled to deal with the "difficult" pro-French members or place himself in a precarious position. No matter which way he decides, it is likely that the dissensions over the reparations issue will be increased.

Premier Poincare in his speech at Senlis, France, replied to the address of Premier Baldwin recently before the British house of commons. He said:

"Since the signing of the armistice, France has not ceased to make concessions and it is false to represent her as an egoist and indifferent to the remainder of Europe. We have reached the end of concessions because, until now, we alone have paid the cost of the treaty that promised us security and reparations and secured us neither. I have always been a warm partisan of the Anglo-French entente, but have understood it, let both sides with independence of opinion and frankness of language to conciliate, not subordinate, their interests. In defending her rights France defends those of her allies and works for humanity."

The Ruhr question was not directly mentioned.

BUSHNELL DID PAY BLACKMAILERS SAY FEDERAL OFFICERS

John L. Bushnell, prominent Springfield banker, and internationally known sportsman, the center of an alleged blackmail plot, has admitted paying $10,000 to Don Osborn, and his alleged niece, Rose Putnam, who are lodged in the Montgomery County jail charged with blackmail, according to federal authorities.

The statement of Bushnell issued through the federal agents, has come out of a series of denials and counter-statements.

H. E. Mau, first assistant U. S. district attorney, said that he had positive information that Bushnell paid $10,000 in Springfield last November to either Miss Putnam or Osborn. No charge will be placed against Bushnell now, according to Mau.

Don Osborn, movie actor, and producer, implicated with the Putnam woman in the case, gave a signed statement Monday, revealing his alleged meetings with Bushnell. In the statement Osborn denied that either he or his niece, Miss Putnam, ever received money from the banker. Some money was paid however to the two missing men, C. M. Madison, and J. A. Ryan, who are said to have been the readers and instigators of the blackmail conspiracy, according to Osborn.

WILL ASK CONGRESS TO EXTEND SEARCH LIMIT TO 12 MILES

Washington, July 16.—If the state department is not able to get foreign nations to agree to extend the American right of search and seizure from 3 to 12 miles as an additional protection against rum running ships, legislation to extend the three mile limit for the purpose of prohibition enforcement will be urged at the beginning of the 68th congress it was announced here this afternoon by Senator Sterling, Republican of South Dakota.

Sterling is a member of the senate judiciary committee and one of the foremost of the congressional dry leaders.

His bill to extend American territorial jurisdiction 12 miles into the seas was permitted to die in the last congress when the administration sought to accomplish the same thing through diplomatic negotiations. Senator Sterling is still hopeful that these negotiations, now being made, will be successful but if they are not, he is ready to put up a fight in the senate when congress reconvenes.

DAYTONIAN ROBBED

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 16.—George L. North, of 1051 West Second Street, Dayton, O., was held up early today by automobile bandits at Bell Place, between Locust and McMillen streets, and robbed of $270 cash and a railroad ticket to Dayton, according to North's complaint to the police.

MAJORITY OF THE PHILIPPINE CABINET QUILTS

Hands of Governor General Wood Tied By Resignations

ONE MEMBER REMAINS

President or Congress May Be Called Upon to Settle Crisis.

Manila, July 16.—Following almost continuous conferences for 48 hours at the home of Manuel Quezon, president of the senate and Filipino political leader, the Philippine cabinet, with the exception of Vice Governor Eugene A. Gilmore, who is secretary of public instruction, signed a document tendering their resignations which were submitted to Governor General Leonard Wood today.

This marks a crisis in the relationship between the governor general and native Filipinos in the government which has been strained some months and presents a problem that probably only congress or the president will be able to solve.

It was understood today that Quezon and Speaker Roxas of the House, will tender their resignations from the board of control of which Governor Wood is the third member, thus leaving Governor Wood without constitutional co-operators in the conduct of the government. Since Quezon controls the legislature that body is not expected to co-operate with the Governor General.

General Wood's office had no comment to make early today. It was understood an effort was being made to patch up the differences existing over the reinstatement of Officer Conley, American head of the gambling squad. Conley was prosecuted by Secretary of the Interior Jose Laurel on what was declared to have been a "frameup" and when the prosecution failed, Governor Wood asked his reinstatement.

KING'S INFLUENCE FELT BY PREMIER IN SPEECH SUNDAY

Rome, July 16.—The conciliatory tone of Premier Mussolini's speech on electoral reforms in the chamber of deputies Sunday was believed today to be due to influence exerted by King Victor Emmanuel.

Newspapers interpreted the speech as "the beginning of a new era." While Mussolini declared that the Fascist had power in their hands and "intended to keep it," he intimated that the collaboration of other political parties would be welcomed.

Premier Mussolini denied that he wants parliament abolished, but added:

"What is liberty? There is no absolute liberty. There is liberty of the press in Russia or any liberty such as we rejoice."

Two motions favorable to the Fascist government were passed by big majorities, one being a vote of confidence.

DRIVER KILLED IN MOTOR RACES

Columbus, O., July 16.—Officials of the Columbus Driving park today are seeking means of preventing another such accident as the one yesterday in which Philip D. Boone, 32, Newark, was killed, and five other automobile race drivers were injured, due to a blinding cloud of dust at the start of the 100 mile run.

None of the injured drivers were seriously hurt. Ormington Riegel, 18, son of State Director of Education Riegel, was badly bruised. Chester Hammock, Newark; Arthur Castle, Columbus, C. C. Runkle, Detroit and R. Collier, Springfield, were the other drivers injured.

Miss Ellen O'Neill, 20, and Miss Ella Smith, 21, both of Columbus, are in hospitals today, seriously injured, the victims of two Sunday auto accidents.

Both moral and financial support will be furnished them, Dietrich said after conferring with the local

Leading Lawyer Charged With Bribing Juror

William J. Fallon, one of the most prominent criminal lawyers in New York City, is under Federal indictment on the charge of bribing Charles W. Rendigs, cloak and suit manufacturer, when the latter was a juror in prosecution of Durrell Gregory and Company, Inc., on the charge of using the mails to defraud in an alleged bucketshop case. All the accused were then acquitted. Rendigs is charged with having received $2,500 from the attorney. Strangely enough, Rendigs appeared as a juror in the subsequent trial of Edward M. Fuller and William F. McGee, confessed bucketshop keepers, whose attorney was Fallon. In this trial there was a disagreement, Rendigs voting for acquittal. Later Fuller and McGee pleaded guilty.

NINE PERSONS INJURED WHEN TRAINS CRASH

NO FATALITIES

Passenger Coaches Crash
Into Empty Leaving
Barns

New York, July 16.—Nine persons were injured, none believed fatally, when two subway trains of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company crashed in a rear-end collision at Two Hundred and Seventh Street and Jerome Avenue early today.

Six of the injured were rushed to Fordham hospital. The others were given emergency treatment and taken to their homes. Many other passengers suffered minor bruises.

One train was an empty, being shunted from the Interborough Company's car barns. This train, officials explained, cut in ahead of the oncoming express train.

Two cars of empty train were virtually demolished. All the injured were in the first car of the express train. At the point of the collision the subway trains operate on an elevated structure in the open. Guard rails kept the cars from plunging to the street, officials said.

The impact hurled passengers from their seats. The motorman said he was unable to stop his train when the injuries are the most serious of those injuries are the most serious of those who were hurt.

BRITISH DID NOT "TWO TIME" NATIONS

London, July 16.—Great Britain did not "double cross" the other powers in deciding to create a powerful naval base at Singapore, Lieutenant Colonel Leopold Amery, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, announced in the house of commons this afternoon. He said that the British delegates to the Washington conference received freedom of action regarding the Singapore naval base. The improvements at Singapore call for an outlay of more than $40,000,000.

Washington, July 16.—Desirous of obtaining first hand information as to progress being made in the civilian training camps, Gen. John J. Pershing, chief of staff of the army, today started on an inspection tour of the 15 principal military training camps of the country.

More than two months will be consumed by General Pershing in reviewing the work of organizing a civilian component of the army and he will travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific taking in both the northern and southern borders.

DEVELOPMENT OF ALASKA IS PROHIBITIVE

President Avoids Promise
Of Further Expenditure

PARTY AT FAIRBANKS

Harding Believes Government Should Encourage Private Capital

Fairbanks, Alaska, July 16.—Opening the entire day on the government railway as it skirted alongside mammoth glaciers and sleeping at night in the train on a siding were the experiences of President Harding and his party's first journey into the heart of Alaska.

The president got his first glimpse of the region to develop which the preceding administration sunk a vast sum on coal mines under navy supervision and which cost the administration $37,000,000 for construction of the road.

As a result of the experiment it is revealed to the president that while the whole of Alaska territory is rich in possibilities, the cost of development is almost prohibitive, under present methods and management of American industry. Thus, while the president brings to Alaskans a message of hope and encouragement, he has carefully avoided so far, and will avoid in the future, uttering any word which might imply that the government is willing to make further expenditures to hasten land development.

Whatever may have been the president's thoughts about Alaska before leaving Washington, his trip has caused him to set his face resolutely against any further attempts by the government to launch any new enterprise here or sink more millions in the effort to build up industry here.

The president rode in comfort and ease in an up-to-date Pullman coach on the railway, but the experience will not change his views which are now entertained by him and which are toward private, not public, ownership and operation of all railroads. Nor will the navy department's experiment in the opening and operation of coal mines alter his belief that the government should keep out of the coal business. On the contrary, the president is likely to become more firm in the position that the most the government can do for Alaska is to loosen up to some degree regulations regarding overland mineral deposits and forests to the end that private capital may be encouraged to come in and take hold of the task of development.

Americans who braved the hardships and privations to come upon this land and pioneer the way to development of its marvelous resources are doomed to disappointment in their hope that the government would aid them. Not only has the president refrained from extending any promise of assistance toward mineral and agricultural development, but also disappointed those who make a living by the fishing industry.

The presidential party breakfasted and viewed Mine Three on the way back through Matanuska valley, where real experiments in the agriculture business have been made with a fair degree of success.

The visit of the president to Alaska has thrown considerable light on the methods employed by Wall street financiers to unload upon the government railroad properties which were practically worthless and which have since by expenditure of many millions been made part of Alaska's railroad system. There is a strong probability that upon the return of the party to Washington an investigation by congress will be urged.

EXCITEMENT HIGH AS MINNESOTA IS VOTING FOR SENATOR

St. Paul, Minn., July 16.—This state which for years has been agreed upon as a Republican battle, gave the old guard a thrill today as voters of the state went to the polls to choose a successor to the late United States Senator Knute Nelson.

Republicans without exception were uneasy of the result, but the contest admittedly was between the Republican candidate—Governor J. A. C. Preus and Mangus Johnson, the standard bearer of the Farmer-Labor party.

Rainy weather admittedly would hurt the chances of Governor Preus because farmers then would quit their work in the grain harvest fields and go to the polls. They have given solid backing to Johnson. Heretofore farmer votes have been counted as in the Republican count before they were cast.

STRIKE IS ENDING

Lodge, July 16.—Striking British dock workers began returning to their posts today and the strike appeared to be on the point of collapse.

BAYLIFFS DROP CRACKBALL GAME SUNDAY BY CLOSE COUNT TO CINCINNATI OUTFIT

By WONES

In one of the best games ever played at Washington Park the Xenia Bayliffs lost to the Coca Colas of Cincinnati Sunday afternoon by a 2 to 1 score. Herman of the Bayliffs losing the pitcher's battle to Gentry.

In four of the nine innings the Bayliffs had men resting on the sacks waiting for the little bingle that would have put across the necessary runs to sew up the contest but the locals seemed to be lacking in this respect. An error cost them the game.

Webb Jones who was slated to do the hurling for the locals, called Manager Bayliff Saturday night saying he would be unable to be here. Bayliff obtained Bob Herman who has been pitching for Brookville, and the big fellow twirled a fine game walking one and fanning four. Herman was a bit wild at the start but as the game progressed he grew better.

He will probably be signed by Manager Bayliff.

Gentry, on the mound for the soft drink lads, also pitched a steady game. He kept the hits well scattered and succeeded in fanning four of the local batsmen while he walked one. The Cokes did not support him any too well.

Furnace was the star of the contest with three bingles one of them paving the way for the Bayliffs' only run. He also made several nice stops around third. Shuey played well at the keystone sack, accepting seven chances without an error. F. Leachy robbed several of the visitors of hits in center field and had five put outs to his credit. Early played well at short and scored the only tally for the Bayliff bunch.

Both teams battle along on even terms until the last half of the sixth when the Bayliffs got busy and made a marker. Early was safe after O'Keefe had muffed Deveny's throw. Early continuing to second. Furnace bunted down the third base line and both runners were safe. Gentry made a wild heave on which Early scored. Furnace going second. Shuey was out. Deveny to O'Keefe while Furnace took third on the out. Tucker hit to center and Clensy made a nice string catch, robbing the first baseman of a hit. Leach was hit. F. Leachy hit sharply to left but Borgman made a nice catch that retired the side.

The popmakers swung into action in the seventh and scored a run which tied the fracas up. Borgman got hold of one of Herman's benders and poked it into centerfield for a home run. It looked as though Leachy was going to catch the ball but the pill took a bad break and went untouched by him. Harrie was out Shuey to Tucker. Grote singled to right Gentry fled to Shuey who made a good catch. Kenen fanned for the final out.

The Coca Colas came right back in the next round and added the winning tally. Clensy hit to left but Leach muffed. Champlin was out Furnace to Tucker, while Clensy took second. O'Keefe hit to left center the hit being good for three bases which scored Clensy. Deveny fanned. Borgman was out. Herman to Tucker.

The Coca Colas had a nifty nine and lived up to all the nice things said about them. They played a fast game in the field, while their work with the stick was also good.

Manager Bayliff wants all the players at the park Wednesday and Friday evenings for practice.

Playing steady ball behind Clapham, the Xenia Reserves defeated the D. M. I. W. Club of Dayton at Reserve Park Sunday afternoon 11 to 3.

The locals ound Puterbaugh fairly easy, collecting 13 hits off his delivery which they turned to good account in several innings. One big inning, however put the Reserves over as they scored seven runs in the fourth by more than batting around.

One run each in the first and second had given them a two run lead to enter the fourth. An error by Ryan, Ad singles by Owens, Botorff, Mustard, Leachy, Wilson and Clapham and Ac-

Shocraft furnished the sensational when he was put in as a pinch hitter and delivered a home run that knocked the count and enabling the locals to win. The Springfielders tied the score in the last of the eighth, but a two bagger by Cunningham again put the locals out in front.

In spite of Lewis' showing on the mound, poor support kept him in hot water most of the game. The Red Sox settled down to better baseball after the third inning. The hitting of Anderson, the fielding of Cunningham and Porter and Shoecraft's homer were features of the afternoon. The Red Sox spotted the visitors five runs in the first, but the colored lads busied themselves to close the count in the fifth.

The Red Sox will play the Englewood A. C., of Dayton, at Dickerson Park next Sunday.

DAYTON TEAM 11-3

Playing steady ball behind Clapham, the Xenia Reserves defeated the D. M. I. W. Club of Dayton at Reserve Park Sunday afternoon 11 to 3.

The locals ound Puterbaugh fairly easy, collecting 13 hits off his delivery which they turned to good account in several innings. One big inning, however put the Reserves over as they scored seven runs in the fourth by more than batting around.

One run each in the first and second had given them a two run lead to enter the fourth. An error by Ryan, Ad singles by Owens, Botorff, Mustard, Leachy, Wilson and Clapham and Ac-

Shocraft furnished the sensational when he was put in as a pinch hitter and delivered a home run that knocked the count and enabling the locals to win. The Springfielders tied the score in the last of the eighth, but a two bagger by Cunningham again put the locals out in front.

In spite of Lewis' showing on the mound, poor support kept him in hot water most of the game. The Red Sox settled down to better baseball after the third inning. The hitting of Anderson, the fielding of Cunningham and Porter and Shoecraft's homer were features of the afternoon. The Red Sox spotted the visitors five runs in the first, but the colored lads busied themselves to close the count in the fifth.

The Red Sox will play the Englewood A. C., of Dayton, at Dickerson Park next Sunday.

GRANVILLE JONES INTERESTS LARGE CHAUTAUQUA CROWD

With hundreds in attendance at the opening programs of the Redpath Chautauqua and with enthusiasm shown over the attractions presented this year's Chautauqua promises to be most successful.

In spite of the intense heat there was a good attendance at the first program Sunday afternoon when the Grosjean Company gave a unique and enjoyable concert.

They gave a diversified program introducing the marimba-xylophone, organ chimes, saxophone, drums, piano, and vocal numbers. A novel feature of the program was a number played on a musical saw, a padded mallet, being used to produce the notes. Readings interspersed the program.

Preceding the regular Chautauqua program of the evening a union service was held by all of the churches of the city the sermon being given by the Rev. B. B. Uhl of the Lutheran church. Rev. Uhl took for his theme "Materialism," emphasizing especially the folly of modern materialism.

He defined materialism as a doctrine that teaches that matter and its activities constitutes the entire universe and denies that theoretically at least, that there is a God, and that there is an immortality of the soul. He spoke of the absorption of the average person in the material affairs as proof of the existence of a modern materialism but expressed his faith in the final failure of materialism and the triumph of Christianity.

Following the sermon the Grosjean Company gave a delightful prelude to the lecture of the evening which was given by Granville Jones of Arkansas on "The Philosophy of a Hill-Billy."

Mr. Jones painted a vivid word picture of the life of a "Hill-Billy," a name applied to the dwellers in the Ozark Mountains, presenting their rugged virtues and eccentricities in a way that was both humorous and sympathetic.

He spoke of the three great principles instilled in the heart of the "Hill-Billy" by training from earliest childhood, faith in God, faith in country and faith in his fellow man.

Using these three points as the basis for his address he made a powerful protest against the present day pessimism that would make it appear that the Church is failing in its great mission, that our government is all wrong that the courts are corrupt and that present day young people are growing up in evil.

He affirmed his own faith in God as the Maker and Ruler of mankind; his belief that the government of the United States is the greatest in the world and has had throughout its history the finest and clearest rulers that the world has ever known. He made a powerful plea for respect for law and in an humorous defense of the young people of the present day plead for faith in the innate goodness of the young people.

The address throughout was brimming with wit and humor and was enthusiastically received. Mr. Jones, who is an attorney, has been for many years on the lecture platform.

The morning sessions opened Monday with a lecture by Wallace Bruce Ansberry.

Mr. Allen, the Chautauqua manager, is principal of one of the high schools in Pittsburgh and is putting in the summer in the Chautauqua work. Miss Haynes, who has charge of the children's work had her first morning with the children Monday morning at nine o'clock. The organization of a children's community government with all the officers of the local city government will be a new and interesting feature of the children's work.

Monte Cristo Up-to-Date

AFTER a search that led through untold hardships, the Count of Monte Cristo found the secret cavern. Gold, gems and untold wealth were his.

But think of this! Every day, simply by spending a few minutes running through the advertising columns of this paper, you can find a wealth of things that Monte Cristo could never know. Things that make your life rich in comforts! Countless conveniences that iron out the mechanics of existence! Economies that bring within your easy reach, things that once were priceless!

We sometimes overlook the important role that advertising plays in making our lives pleasant and altogether livable. Advertising is as much a part of today's life as electricity, antiseptic surgery or automobiles. It keeps us up-to-date on the many things we need in order to live profitable, happy and useful lives. It presents for our approval articles of all kinds and for all purposes. The requirements of each member of the family are met by advertised offers of good merchandise of proved value.

The advertisements save time, money and effort for those who read them and follow their guidance. They are practical guarantees of satisfaction.

Don't put down this paper without reading the advertisements

HOW TWO PORPOISES BROUGHT THOUGHT OF GOD TO A BOY.

The following extract from an article in the American Magazine entitled: "I was born in a storm at sea," explains itself, and we think it very interesting:

"Every boy reaches an age when he struggles with the problem of a personal God. A deep experience of this sort is associated in my mind with the jib boom. We were rolling lazily in a light air. All forenoon I had been on the jib boom, watching a pair of porpoises play around the bows. At length they finished their play, and settled down to lead the ship for a while, as they had a habit of doing.

"The longer I watched them, the more I began to fear for their safety. Two days before, the mate had harpooned a porpoise, and the horror of it was still fresh in my mind. A porpoise is a mammal. It has warm blood by the bucketful; it squeaks and groans when it is hurt. A good-sized specimen will weigh three hundred pounds. To see such a creature harpooned and hauled out of the water on the end of the iron—the blood and struggle of it, the dumb sounds of the victim—had caused a sudden revulsion in my whole nature. I could not eat a mouthful of that porpoise. Now here were two more placing themselves in prime position to be slaughtered. And as if in answer to my worst fears, at that moment the mate mounted the forecastle head and peered over the buffalo.

"'Hello—porpoises!' he cried in great excitement, sighting them and me together. 'Why didn't you sing out?'

"'They just arrived, sir,' I lied glibly.

"'Well, keep them there. I'll run and get the harpoon.'

"'Keep them there! What could I do? I had nothing to throw at them; porpoises are not easily frightened. Surely, I cried in agony, God will not permit this awful thing to happen again. And suddenly I realized that this was a test of Him. While sounds of running broke out along the deck, I burst into fervent prayer.

"'O God, I prayed, 'if there really is a God, and if You have power to do things, send these porpoises away. Send them away quick, before the mate gets the harpoon rigged. It depends on this, whether I will believe in You or not. If I don't want these porpoises killed, it seems to me You ought to feel the same way. Warn them, God! You must have the power. Give me a sign.'

"There was no time for more. The mate had rigged the harpoon, and now stood at the knight heads poising it in his right hand. A row of grinning faces leaned over the buffalo. The porpoises had not moved. A moment passed while the mate shifted his stand, so that the stroke would go clear of the bobstays. My heart sank like lead. But at that instant a wonderful thing happened. As if in obedience to a sudden command, the two dun-colored bodies turned abruptly to starboard, gathered quick headway, and left the path of the vessel. I could scarcely believe my eyes.

"'Shoot, sir! They're going!' cried a dozen voices.

"The mate flung the harpoon, but it fell far short. The men hauled in the empty iron; after a while they all went away. I sat on the jib boom, motionless and overwhelmed. I had seen a miracle. Why, I had caused it—it had been sent to me! That awed me, yet I felt wonderfully safe and secure. I had proved God's presence, had almost heard His voice. I tried to imagine the nature of the divine command that I had seen obeyed. God could hear, then; He was close at hand. The emptiness of the ocean surrounding me was His, the wind and the wave, and the fishes of the deep. How could I doubt that I was His also?"

CABINET TROUBLES CAN'T WORRY GEORGE.

Representative E. R. Ackerman, of Plainfield, N. J., is back from his forty-seventh ocean voyage—this time from England, with a gold medal as a champion stamp collector and an interesting story of King George's passion for philately. Mr. Ackerman, in Washington today, where he is getting ready for the forty-eighth voyage, is exhibiting the medal presented him at the recent London exhibition for the best collection of five and ten cent United States stamps of the issue of 1847.

The high light in Mr. Ackerman's visit to London, however, was the reception tendered the exhibitors by King George at Buckingham Palace. It took place when Great Britain was without a Prime Minister, the interim of the resignation of Bonar Law and the accession of Stanley Baldwin, when the problem of selecting a new Premier was up to the King and was the chief concern of the British people and their Government. Nevertheless, King George spent an entire afternoon with the stamp collectors interestedly going over the various collections submitted to him and exhibiting his own.

According to Mr. Ackerman, an authority on philately, King George is a real lover of rare stamp issues and his private collection ranks with the best. Cabinet troubles failed to disturb him on that particular day and he took great delight in viewing hundreds of pages of the priceless little colored engravings.

Representative Ackerman's visit to the Philippines will be a combination of business and pleasure, for he goes to study the situation in Uncle Sam's island possessions as a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

OHIO FARM BUREAU HEADS TO PARLEY

Columbus, July 16.—The special midsummer meeting of farm bureau representatives will be a working conference, according to plans approved by the executive committee of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation at their meeting last week. The meeting will be held in Columbus on July 23 and 24. At least one farmer representative from each county in Ohio is expected to be present. The meeting has been called by farm bureau officials because of the rapid development of plans for co-operative marketing, and other activities of organized farmers of the state. In calling the meeting the leaders of the state organization are asking the delegates to come prepared to assist in mapping out a program for future work of farm organizations, particularly the efforts directed toward improved

BEEKEEPERS TO MEET.

Columbus, July 16.—Buckeye beekeepers will meet here for a conference to determine the procedure of combating foul brood, a contagious disease which is affecting honey bees throughout the state. The conference has been called by Charles W. Truax, director of agriculture. Specialists will be present. The disease, which spreads rapidly through bee colonies, is menacing the entire country, but Ohio is much worse off than other states, Mr. Truax said.

Scald and peel six small tomatoes. Butter six individual ramekins (or small glass baking dishes) and put one tablespoon of plain white sauce into each. Add the whole tomato and pour a little more of the white sauce over the top (in all, you will need one cup of white sauce). Sprinkle with chopped parsley and one tablespoon of grated onion. Stand the six dishes in a baking tin, and bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes. Serve hot.

Chocolate Bread Puddings: Soak one-half cup of stale bread crumbs in one cup of scalded milk. Melt one-half square of unsweetened chocolate, add to it three tablespoons of granulated sugar and enough milk (taken from the bread and milk) to make the right consistency to pour. Now combine this chocolate mixture with the bread and milk, add a pinch of salt, one-eighth teaspoon of ground cinnamon, a few drops of vanilla and one beaten egg, and turn all into a buttered pudding dish.

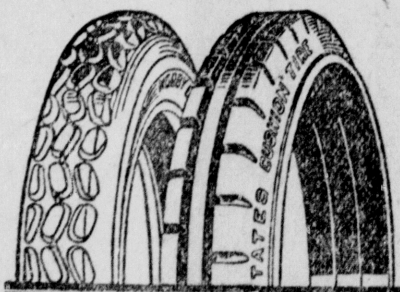

Bake for 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve hot with a hard sauce. Escalloped Eggs: Make one and one-half cups of ordinary white sauce by thickening a cup and a half of sweet milk with a little flour, adding one teaspoon of butter, and salt to season) and pour this sauce into a buttered baking dish alternately with a layer of sliced, hard boiled eggs. You will need six cold, hard boiled eggs in all. Sprinkle the dish with salt, cover with crumbs dot with bits of butter and bake in a hot oven till the sauce bubbles up through the crumbs. Serve at once. Tomato Jelly Salad: This is a very popular salad for "special occasions." It is moulded in little tomato-shaped aluminum moulds, so that the jelly resembles a tomato when turned out of the mould onto lettuce. Soak one and one-fourth tablespoon of granulated gelatin in one-half cup of cold tomato juice until the gelatin swells. In the meantime heat two cups of extra tomato juice with five whole cloves and one-half teaspoon of salt, and after reaching the boiling point, let it continue to boil for one minute. Remove the hot juice from the range, add swollen gelatin into it, and stir till gelatin is dissolved. Now strain the liquid into the individual tomato

TEARS

Life's a round of cares and joys. Days of peace and days of noise. Tasks to do and games to play. Clouds that come and blow away. Sunshine, laughter, grief and rain. Like the links which make a chain. Follow one another here. In the making of a year.

Each is born and each must die. Each shall smile and each shall sigh. Just as winter brings the snow, So shall sorrow bring his woe. But when winter passes on, June returns to everyone. And we learn throughout the years

Very natural things are tears. God has fashioned every eye With its glistening tear-supply. Proving, as this life we keep, All must some day grieve and weep. Should this be your hour for grief, Spurn the voice of unbelief—All about you, great or low, Share or shall share in your woe.

Not alone you suffer pain. Not alone for you the rain; Life has brought you griefs to bear. This is now your time of care. But the smiling face you see May tomorrow trouble's be. And the heart you fancy glad Only yesterday was sad.

Today's Talk

THE DIFFICULT THING

It's our difficult problems that make us all that we are.

Even the easy things which we now do, were once difficult for us. Else it would be a very discouraging world in which to live.

It is hard for us to remain quiet and patient in the face of hurts—but that is the wisest way. For there is little intentional desire in the hearts of people to hurt. But why is it that we dwell so long upon them? And why 's that the good turn, the thoughtful act on the part of some one who loves us, passes so quickly?

When things run smoothly we laugh and are light in heart, but when the difficult thing comes to our door, we weep.

Yet there are those who have formed the habit of being happiest when they are tackling the most difficult things.

I know of a contractor who advertises that he makes a specialty of difficult foundations.

I see no reason why we shouldn't all make a specialty of difficult foundations. Surely no other foundation is worth building.

I recently read in a newspaper of a famous American man whose story was summed up as follows: Forty dollars (the amount he started with) forty failures, forty millions!

If we do the difficult thing first, too, we may be assured in advance that we can finish the rest.

And this is assurance sufficient to start anything, isn't it?

Raymond Stiles, president, Harry Williams, delegate and Arthur Reynolds, alternate, of Beta Beta Chapter, Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity were among the 700 delegates, to the seventh convention of the organization, registered Sunday afternoon, at the Gibbons Hotel, Dayton convention headquarters.

Eighteen other members of the local chapters will attend the convention each evening of the remaining sessions. Sunday was devoted to the registration of delegates and a reception arranged by Dayton sorority girls. The reception was held from 2 to 5 o'clock, in the afternoon and from 8 to 10 o'clock in the evening.

A business meeting was scheduled from 10 o'clock until noon Monday. Another session was held from one to three o'clock, Monday afternoon.

Convention business will be discussed from nine to 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. A group picture will be taken at one o'clock in the afternoon, followed by a trip to the N. C. R. at 2:15 in the afternoon.

A parade through the downtown Dayton business district will be staged at 5:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening. A stag banquet will follow at six o'clock. A theater party for visiting girls will be held Tuesday night at eight o'clock at the Victory theater.

Election of officers and business sessions will take up the larger part of Wednesday. Business meetings are to be held from 10 o'clock in the morning until noon and from 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon until 3:30 o'clock.

A grand ball at the Greystone will start at 8:30 o'clock closing the convention.

NO HELP FROM AMERICA

Berlin, July 16.—"Germany should give up the illusion that any help is coming for Germany from America," declared ex-Premier Lerchenfeld of Bavaria in a speech at Munich. Lerchenfeld has returned after an extended tour of the United States. He declares that the articles of Lloyd George are making no impression on the public mind of America and said the speech of Admiral Sims branding stories of allied U-boat atrocities as war propaganda was simply ignored by the American public. Among the eleven or twelve million German-Americans in the United States, Lerchenfeld declared, there is lacking that racial consciousness and common faith that unites so strongly the Irish in America. The Germanic element today is all American, he found.

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red blood-cells, and quickly the rub of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes Venus-like and immaculate! Try it! It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

How Jewett Sales have Mounted Month by Month

Why Jewett Six Succeeds Like This

Look at Jewett's sales success; the chart tells the story. What made it possible?

No sales genius could have put this over. Nothing but startling quality, and performance at the price, could have done it. There are plenty of average satisfactory quality cars around Jewett's price, yet look at Jewett's first 17 months! Why? Why? Surely it is wise to learn of Jewett's qualities before you buy any car.

First, Jewett offers a powerful, sturdy Six at the cost of a Four. Jewett is the only car in the thousand dollar class built by a maker of highest quality cars at $2000 and upwards. The Paige-built Jewett Six is a Paige-designed product through and through. Paige-built motor, Paige-type clutch and transmission, Paige-Timken axles, Paige ball-bearing steering spindles, Paige high-pressure oiling system.

Paige performance—the ability to pass most any car on any hill—the pick-up of 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds in high gear—the flexibility to go 2 to 60 miles an hour in high gear—are characteristics of the Jewett which have won it friends everywhere. And Jewett, like the Paige, is easy riding in spite of its moderate size. It rides easily because its springs are 80 per cent of its wheelbase, because it is a stoutly constructed car—200 pounds heavier—and will not bounce around.

Jewett handles as no car ever handled before, because it has but 11 1/2 lbs. weight for every horsepower. You do not realize how powerful Jewett is compared with average cars until you raise the hood. Jewett's fifty horsepower motor fills the hood. You cannot imagine an emergency which such a car would not out-manuever.

A ten-minute ride in a Jewett, with your own hands on the wheel, will tell you more than all the engineering facts or sales records in the world. You're welcome to drive the Jewett whenever you want—as far as you want—to prove to yourself the Jewett Six is not only the dominating car in the thousand-dollar class, but so fine a car that few need to pay more.

Now here were two more placing themselves in prime position to be slaughtered. And as if in answer to my worst fears, at that moment the mate mounted the fore-castle head and peered over the buffalo.

"'Hello—porpoises!' he cried in great excitement, sighting them and me together. 'Why didn't you sing out?'

"'They just arrived, sir,' I lied glibly.

"'Well, keep them there. I'll run and get the harpoon.'

"'Keep them there! What could I do? I had nothing to throw at them; porpoises are not easily frightened. Surely, I cried in agony, God will not permit this awful thing to happen again. And suddenly I realized that this was a test of Him. While sounds of running broke out along the deck, I burst into fervent prayer.

"'O God, I prayed, 'if there really is a God, and if You have power to do things, send these porpoises away. Send them away quick, before the mate gets the harpoon rigged. It depends on this, whether I will believe in You or not. If I don't want these porpoises killed, it seems to me You ought to feel the same way. Warn them, God! You must have the power. Give me a sign.'

"There was no time for more. The mate had rigged the harpoon, and now stood at the knight heads poising it in his right hand. A row of grinning faces leaned over the buffalo. The porpoises had not moved. A moment passed while the mate shifted his stand, so that the stroke would go clear of the bobstays. My heart sank like lead. But at that instant a wonderful thing happened. As if in obedience to a sudden command, the two dun-colored bodies turned abruptly to starboard, gathered quick headway, and left the path of the vessel. I could scarcely believe my eyes.

"'Shoot, sir! They're going!' cried a dozen voices.

"The mate flung the harpoon, but it fell far short. The men hauled in the empty iron; after a while they all went away. I sat on the jib boom, motionless and overwhelmed. I had seen a miracle. Why, I had caused it—it had been sent to me! That awed me, yet I felt wonderfully safe and secure. I had proved God's presence, had almost heard His voice. I tried to imagine the nature of the divine command that I had seen obeyed. God could hear, then; He was close at hand. The emptiness of the ocean surrounding me was His, the wind and the wave, and the fishes of the deep. How could I doubt that I was His also?"

CABINET TROUBLES CAN'T WORRY GEORGE.

Representative E. R. Ackerman, of Plainfield, N. J., is back from his forty-seventh ocean voyage—this time from England, with a gold medal as a champion stamp collector and an interesting story of King George's passion for philately. Mr. Ackerman, in Washington today, where he is getting ready for the forty-eighth voyage, is exhibiting the medal presented him at the recent London exhibition for the best collection of five and ten cent United States stamps of the issue of 1847.

The high light in Mr. Ackerman's visit to London, however, was the reception tendered the exhibitors by King George at Buckingham Palace. It took place when Great Britain was without a Prime Minister, the interim of the resignation of Bonar Law and the accession of Stanley Baldwin, when the problem of selecting a new Premier was up to the King and was the chief concern of the British people and their Government. Nevertheless, King George spent an entire afternoon with the stamp collectors interestedly going over the various collections submitted to him and exhibiting his own.

According to Mr. Ackerman, an authority on philately, King George is a real lover of rare stamp issues and his private collection ranks with the best. Cabinet troubles failed to disturb him on that particular day and he took great delight in viewing hundreds of pages of the priceless little colored engravings.

Representative Ackerman's visit to the Philippines will be a combination of business and pleasure, for he goes to study the situation in Uncle Sam's island possessions as a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

NOT YET BUT SOME DAY

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Mr. Harry LeSourd left this morning for Lakeside, Ohio, to spend several weeks on an outing. Mr. George Galloway, the druggist, who with his wife and daughter, have been absent on a trip in the East, returned home this morning.

The genial County Clerk, Mr. S. O. Hale, has worked a metamorphosis in his appearance by parting with his mustache, appearing at his office this morning with a face shaven entirely smooth.

The little dainty-dink ties for men continued in style and will undoubtedly remain through the summer. Of course you have noticed them, and very likely wore one of them, look like a colored shoe string, don't they?

OHIO FARM BUREAU HEADS TO PARLEY

Columbus, July 16.—The special midsummer meeting of farm bureau representatives will be a working conference, according to plans approved by the executive committee of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation at their meeting last week. The meeting will be held in Columbus on July 23 and 24. At least one farmer representative from each county in Ohio is expected to be present. The meeting has been called by farm bureau officials because of the rapid development of plans for co-operative marketing, and other activities of organized farmers of the state. In calling the meeting the leaders of the state organization are asking the delegates to come prepared to assist in mapping out a program for future work of farm organizations, particularly the efforts directed toward improved mar-

BEEKEEPERS TO MEET.

Columbus, July 16.—Buckeye beekeepers will meet here for a conference to determine the procedure of combating foul brood, a contagious disease which is affecting honey bees throughout the state. The conference has been called by Charles W. Truax, director of agriculture. Specialists will be present. The disease, which spreads rapidly through bee colonies, is menacing the entire country, but Ohio is much worse off than other states, Mr. Truax said.

TEARS

Life's a round of cares and joys. Days of peace and days of noise. Tasks to do and games to play. Clouds that come and blow away. Sunshine, laughter, grief and rain. Like the links which make a chain. Follow one another here. In the making of a year.

Each is born and each must die. Each shall smile and each shall sigh. Just as winter brings the snow. So shall sorrow bring his woe. But when winter passes on, June returns to everyone. And we learn throughout the years

Very natural things are tears. God has fashioned every eye With its glistening tear-supply. Proving, as this life we keep, All must some day grieve and weep. Should this be your hour for grief. Spurn the voice of unbelief—All about you, great or low, Share or shall share in your woe.

Not alone you suffer pain. Not alone for you the rain; Life has brought you griefs to bear. This is now your time of care. But the smiling face you see May tomorrow trouble's be. And the heart you fancy glad Only yesterday was sad.

Today's Talk

THE DIFFICULT THING

It's our difficult problems that make us all that we are.

Even the easy things which we now do, were once difficult for us. Else it would be a very discouraging world in which to live.

It is hard for us to remain quiet and patient in the face of hurts—but that is the wisest way. For there is little intentional desire in the hearts of people to hurt. But why is it that we dwell so long upon them? And why is that the good turn, the thoughtful act on the part of some one who loves us, passes so quickly?

When things run smoothly we laugh and are light in heart, but when the difficult thing comes to our door, we weep.

Yet there are those who have formed the habit of being happiest when they are tackling the most difficult things.

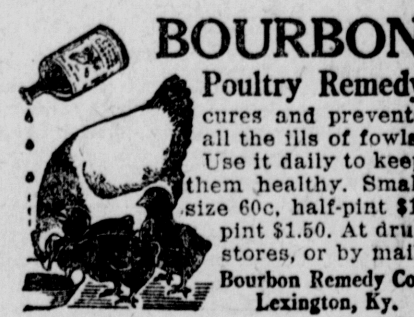

I know of a contractor who advertises that he makes a specialty of difficult foundations.

I see no reason why we shouldn't all make a specialty of difficult foundations. Surely no other foundation is worth building.

I recently read in a newspaper of a famous American man whose story was summed up as follows: Forty dollars (the amount he started with) forty failures, forty millions!

If we do the difficult thing first, too, we may be assured in advance that we can finish the rest. And this is assurance sufficient to start anything, isn't it?

LOCAL DELEGATES ATTEND MEETING OF SOCIETY IN DAYTON

Raymond Stiles, president, Harry Williams, delegate and Arthur Reynolds, alternate, of Beta Beta Chapter, Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity were among the 700 delegates, to the seventh convention of the organization, registered Sunday afternoon, at the Gibbons Hotel, Dayton convention headquarters.

Eighteen other members of the local chapters will attend the convention each evening of the remaining sessions. Sunday was devoted to the registration of delegates and a reception arranged by Dayton sorority girls. The reception was held from 2 to 5 o'clock, in the afternoon and from 8 to 10 o'clock in the evening.

A business meeting was scheduled from 10 o'clock until noon Monday. Another session was held from 8 to 10 o'clock, Monday afternoon.

Convention business will be discussed from nine to 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. A group picture will be taken at one o'clock in the afternoon, followed by a trip to the N. C. R. at 2:15 in the afternoon.

A parade through the downtown Dayton business district will be staged at 5:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening. A stag banquet will follow at six o'clock. A theater party for visiting girls will be held Tuesday night at eight o'clock at the Victory theater.

Election of officers and business sessions will take up the larger part of Wednesday. Business meetings are to be held from 10 o'clock in the morning until noon and from 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon until 3:30 o'clock.

A grand ball at the Greystone will start at 8:30 o'clock closing the convention.

NO HELP FROM AMERICA

Berlin, July 16.—Germany should give up the illusion that any help is coming for Germany from America," declared ex-Premier Loecherer, of Bavaria in a speech at Munich. Loecherer has returned after an extended tour of the United States. He declares that the articles of Lloyd George are making no impression on the public mind of America and said the speech of Admiral Sims branding stories of allied U-boat atrocities as war propaganda was simply ignored by the American public. Among the eleven or twelve million German-Americans in the United States, Loecherer declared, there is lacking that racial consciousness and common faith that unites so strongly the Irish in America. The Germanic element today is all American, he found.

FARMER KILLS SELF.

Bowersville, O., July 16.—Lorenzo Albough, 58, committed suicide in a barn on his farm near Bowersville, by hanging. Despondency, due to ill health, is believed to have been the motive.

Sandusky, O., July 16.—Joseph O'Dea, 21, watchman on the freight steamer Jupiter, was drowned in Lake Erie while swimming near a dock at Kelley's Island. Marblehead coast guard recovered the body. O'Dea lived at Cleveland.

the blood pressure. When a man kisses a woman, the savant asserted, his blood pressure rises from 130 to 160, while a woman's blood pressure never rises above 119 and generally fluctuates coldly around 100. Dr. Henry Steible, of the Department of Health, in Chicago, is shown taking the blood pressure of Miss Ida Flynn while she goes through an oculatory specialty with Arthur Cannon. When the instrument was attached to her arm it registered zero, but on Cannon's arm it mounted to 160.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify. The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red blood cells, and quickly the rub of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes Venus-like and immaculate. Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

CANDIDACY OF H. A. SPARKS PUTS FOUR IN COMMISSION FIGHT

The element of contest was injected into the City Commission race this fall with the filing of a candidacy petition by Harry Sparks, merchant, late Saturday night.

The Sparks petition makes a four cornered contest out of the race to fill three vacancies that will exist on the commission at the end of this year. Other candidates are Harry Fisher, Dr. C. G. McPherson and S. M. McKay, all present members, who are candidates to succeed themselves.

Mr. Sparks' petition projects him into the race as a candidate for the regular term of four years. This fact puts him into the scuffle with Mr. Fisher and Dr. McPherson for the two long term offices to be filled. Mr. McKay is a candidate for the short term of two years which represents the unexpired term of two years dating from next January 1, of the late Mayor M. J. Hartley. As he was the only candidate to file for the short term he will have no opposition. Time for filing closed Saturday night at midnight.

Mr. Sparks is now associated with J. Walker Gibney in the operation of the Hutchison and Gibney department store. He is a graduate civil engineer with considerable practicing experience and for some time served as city engineer of Lansing, Mich. Returning here he was superintendent of the Kenia factory of the Robbins and Myers Company during its existence and later assumed managerial duties with the department store, of which he is part owner. His technical knowledge is exploited as giving him particular qualifications for the Commission job.

Commissioner Fisher, also seeking the long term, hopes to succeed himself. His second term, representing six years on the commission ends December 31, 1923. He was a member of the original commission when that form of government was adopted, January 1, 1918. Mr. McKay was appointed by the Commission to fill the unexpired term of Mayor Hartley, who died in February. Because a general election will be held before the expiration of his term it is necessary that he be a candidate. Without opposition he is sure of election and will begin his elected term January 1 and serve two years.

Dr. McPherson has been a member of the Commission only a few weeks. He was appointed by the Commission to succeed Dr. A. D. DeHaven, who resigned to become health commissioner. The term would have expired December 31, and Dr. McPherson will be a candidate for a full new term of four years.

HAIG APPEALS FOR MILITARY DEFENSES

London, July 16.—Earl Haig, commander in chief of the British army at the close of the great war, in a speech today before the Empire Service league, appealed for more powerful military defenses of the British nation.

"An unarmed nation can keep neither the respect nor the friendship of its neighbors," said Earl Haig. "In the interests of peace we former service men stand for adequate defense of the British empire."

"We have seen what unpreparedness visited upon ourselves and our children in the great war."

GOVERNOR TO MAKE SIX APPOINTMENTS

Columbus, July 16.—Appointment of a criminal identification director, under the Herbert law, effective this week, naming of the two members of the reestablished clemency board, which replaces the present board of pardons and paroles and appointment of members of the Ohio judicial council, the board of building standards, and the Schoenbrun commission, the latter three nonpaying jobs, will be up to Governor Donahey this week.

The criminal identification director position pays $3,600 a year. Each member of the bi-partisan clemency board will receive $4,500 a year.

Police Are Investigating First Aerial Murder

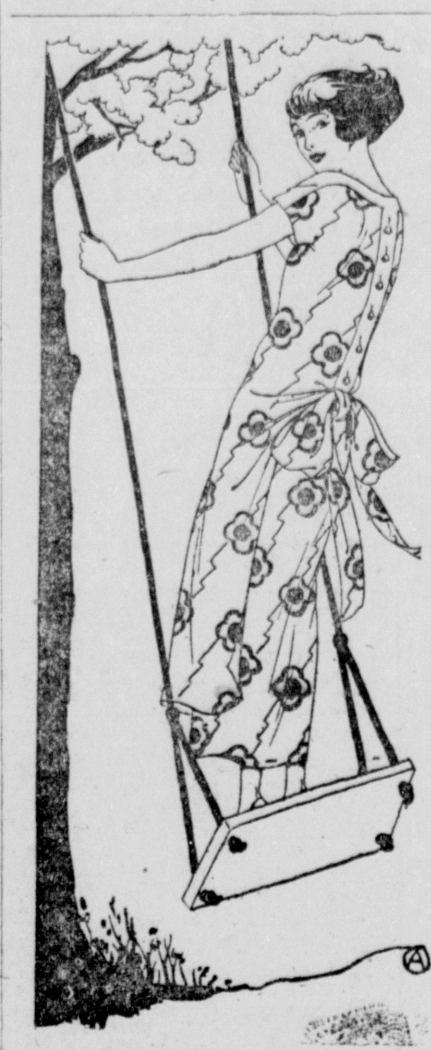

In the double deaths of B. H. DeLay and R. I. Short, Los Angeles police are investigating what is reported to have been the first aerial murder. DeLay, a pilot, had taken Short up for a ride, and both were killed in a crash. DeLay's friends charged that the plane had been tampered with by his enemies before the flight, after several other efforts to kill him had proved unavailing.

Styles BY LENORE

Why isn't a swing as good a way as any of showing an exceedingly smart frock? No doubt the heroine is visiting, and the kiddies of the family have "dared" her to go way up high. But before she does so let us note the details of the frock.

Made with an apron, as you may see and there is no indication of a waistline in the front as you may guess from the way the sides are drawn up into the swag bow behind—one of the smartest things to do in a dress these days. The buttons are white and ball shaped.

And the material is almond green and white crepe de chine. In all the range of hot weather fashions, it seems there is a persistent demand among women who show most discrimination in their choice of clothes for these printed silks. Embodying the spirit of summer in color, they are cool and require cleaning less often than solid colors in the summer shades. And with a wide hat, and gray or beige slipper or patent leather with "nude stockings" a printed silk dress will often be suitable for occasions when cottons are too informal.

AUTOS CLAIM TWO

Cincinnati, July 16.—Robert T. Doon, 48, and Charles Feltman, 3, Covington, Ky., were killed and William McDermott, 23, Bellevue Ky., and John Sellers, 26, Ludlow, Ky., were probably fatally injured in automobile accidents yesterday.

Doon is a well known local athlete and former Cincinnati Red player. This brings Hamilton county's automobile fatalities to 78 for the year.

STATE SUSPENDS SALE OF DOLLINGS CO. SECURITIES

Columbus, O., July 16.—Further sale of securities of the R. L. Dollings Company in Ohio, has been suspended, pending action of common pleas court. Norman E. Beck, state commissioner of securities, announced today.

Columbus, O., July 16.—Attorneys for the R. L. Dollings Company brokers and for thirteen stockholders who demanded in common pleas court that the company be placed in the hands of a receiver were preparing today to make specific statements of their case in court Friday. The thirteen stockholders desire the return of $65,000 said to have been invested in the Dollings corporation, a general accounting of the officers of the company to more than 80,000 stockholders scattered over the United States, and preservation intact of assets of the company during the proceedings; according to Attorneys Williams, Sinks, and Williams for the petitioners.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1.—Officials of the Indiana division of R. L. Dollings and Company today said that the suit for a receivership filed at the home of the company at Columbus, O., would have "no" effect on securities placed throughout this state. Local representatives disclaimed any knowledge of the receivership petition. The company does business in three states, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

SCIENTISTS MEET TO VIEW ECLIPSE

Mexico City, July 16.—Scientists from over all the world are gathering here to view an eclipse of the sun Sept. 10. Some of them hope to obtain data either confirming or disproving Einstein's theory of relativity. The American astronomical commission, presided over by Astronomer Miller, of the Philadelphia observatory, will arrive July 28, and the German commission, headed by Professor Ludendorff, of Leipzig observatory, will arrive some time late this month.

Pietro Laurens, mayor of Mexico City, has declared these scientists guests of honor of Mexico City, commissioning Joaquin Callo, director of the Mexican observatory, to attend them while in Mexico. The eclipse will be visible in Santa Catalina island, California, and at four different points in Mexico—Lower California, Sonora, San Luis Obispo and Durango.

SWIMMER DROWNED

Cincinnati, July 16.—Gordon Spidell, 22, railway mail clerk, drowned in the Ohio river yesterday at Bromley, Ky., while his bride of two months stood on the banks, unable to render him assistance. Spidell was a native of Dayton, Ohio.

$20,000 SALARY PAID TO WOMAN

Miss Bindi M. West, of Port Huron, Mich., has been voted a salary of $20,000 a year by the Women's Benefit Association, of which she is the Supreme Commander. She is a direct descendant of Roger Conant, first Governor of Massachusetts Colony, and the Conant who, shared the midnight ride with Paul Revere.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT AT UNLUCKY CORNER

The intersection of Third and Monroe Streets was the scene of another motor accident, Sunday afternoon about three o'clock, when a Chevrolet touring car, driven by Herman Fisher of Columbus Street was struck by a Studebaker touring car of which a party of Dayton people were occupants.

Fisher was driving west on Third Street and the Dayton machine was moving south on Monroe Street. The Fisher machine was turned completely around by the force of the impact, but no one was injured. Both cars were slightly damaged. Many collisions have occurred at this intersection.

COAST TO COAST TRYS IS DELAYED

Mineola, N. Y., July 16.—The "hop-off" for Lieutenant Russell Maughan's second attempt to fly from New York to San Francisco between daylight and dark, was again postponed today.

Failure of mechanics to complete alternations and repairs on Maughan's plane caused the delay. "But I will be on my way before Saturday," Maughan said. "I will not attempt the flight before Wednesday at the earliest. After that it will depend on weather conditions."

AUTO TURNED OVER.

Canton, O., July 16.—Chris Croefas, 35, died in Meigs hospital here from injuries received when an automobile he was driving turned over in a ditch north of the city. He suffered a fractured skull.

THE MISFIT By Jane Plehps

HORACE'S SEARCH IS ENDED Chapter XLV

Many things came blurredly into Horace Crandell's head as he walked toward Etta Blackwell's humble home chief among them the agonizing thought that he might never find Natalie, that in some way she would always escape him. He had no real hope of finding her through Etta, but she would know the addresses of other girls, friends of Natalie's in the days before she married him.

Horace was afraid—afraid his quest would be unsuccessful, yet Beverly had thought it might bring results, and Beverly was a woman, young like Natalie. She might have figured that was what she would do—go to those with whom she had associated happily before trouble came.

With head bent he walked slowly busy with his thoughts. He was but a little ways from the house when he saw a woman emerge pushing a baby carriage. It was Natalie. So surprised was he that he stood for a moment staring, rooted to the spot. All that Craig Harper had said, all he had implied rushed over him. Horace started to follow quickly, then slowed his steps. The street was full of people, he could not talk to Natalie—could not speak to her so. He would follow her, and when she came to a quieter place he would catch up with her.

His heart beat suffocatingly. Natalie at last—but the child—he dared not think—dared not.

He followed, keeping her always in sight until she reached the little triangular park. She found an empty bench, and after carefully turning the carriage to shield the baby from the sun, she sat down. There was something so hopeless, so dejected in her attitude that his eyes misted as he looked; a lump came into his throat.

Evidently she saw no one, her eyes bent on the ground her hands twisting in her lap. As Horace drew near he saw she was pale almost wan in the bright sunshine. Harper had said she looked ill—she had been ill.

Quietly he stood before her. As his shadow fell she looked up.

"Natalie—oh, Natalie—have I found you at last?" Horace said, thrilling as he saw the gleam of joy that for a moment swept her face, but that fleeing left her paler than before.

"Horace!" She gasped his name hoarsely. Then her pride came to the fore, and she dropped her eyes, saying no more.

He sat down beside her.

"Natalie, my dear, have you no greeting for me? I have searched so long for you. Thank God I've found you at last." Horace laid his hand over hers, then took it in his grasp. "Don't you love me anymore, Natalie?"

"Can't you forgive me for the cruel things I said to you—for what I did? You have suffered dear, I can see that, but I also have suffered. And, how I have blamed myself. Speak to me dear, tell me you forgive me."

For the first time she looked up, looked at him.

"I never shall forgive you for—marrying me. I left so you could be free—could marry a girl who was not a 'misfit', whom you believed when she told you what she had done. You can divorce me at any time. Marry to please your mother—perhaps. If you do she will let you give your wife a little of your time and attention. Or—she may like to watch you playing chess while she sits in a corner." Natalie frowned on, scarcely realizing she was talking. She felt she would become hysterical did she allow herself to think of what she was saying.

"Natalie—forgive me. Let me try again? Come back to me, dear. I love you with all my heart and soul. I will make you happy, I swear it—if my devotion can bring you happiness."

The baby stirred, fretted a little. Absently, Natalie bent over the carriage and patted the child into quiet.

"Whose child is it, Natalie?" Horace's voice was hoarse with feeling his emotion almost strangled him.

"Why Etta's, of course," Natalie answered in a surprised tone, taken out of herself by the question. Then "I am her maid of all work."

"Why, Etta's, of course," Natalie answered in a surprised tone, taken out of herself by the question. Then "I am her maid of all work."

For a moment Horace could not speak, could only stare. More than Natalie knew had he reason now to beg her forgiveness. Etta's baby, Natalie, his Natalie, a maid in that poor home.

He bent his head on his hands and great slow tears trickled through between his fingers.

"Forgive me, Natalie. Oh, forgive me," he pleaded hiding his face.

CONSECRATE NEW CATHOLIC BISHOP

Covington, Ky., July 16.—In the stately cathedral here, under imposing rites, Monsignor Francis W. Howard, former rector of Holy Rosary Church, Columbus, was yesterday consecrated fifth bishop of Covington diocese, which was established in 1853. Assisting Archbishop Henry Moeller, of Cincinnati, were: Right Reverend James Hartly, bishop of Columbus and former superior of Mgr. Howard and Right Rev. John A. Floersch, who but recently was consecrated in Rome to rule over the spiritual destiny of Catholics living within the jurisdiction of Louisville.

E BRAND

AS DELICIOUS AS NECTOR

Is Iced Tea Made From This Recipe With

"E" Brand Orange Pekoe Tea

A wonderful clear, deep amber liquid with a marvelous flavor that amazes and delights you is the new "E" Brand Orange Pekoe Tea. When you try it you feel you have never before dreamed of the possibilities of enjoyment in a glass of iced tea. It is so rich, so fragrant, and has a beautiful color found in no other tea.

For perfect results follow carefully the following simple method of preparing iced "E" Brand Orange Pekoe Tea.

Measure two heaping tablespoonfuls of tea and add two cups of boiling water. Set in warm place where it will not boil and steep for five minutes. Stir well and then strain. While still hot add two cups of sugar and stir until sugar is thoroughly dissolved. This makes a strong, clear, wine-colored syrup that will make ten or twelve glasses of iced tea. Pour the syrup into a bottle and set in refrigerator until ready to serve. For serving fill glasses about one third full of the syrup then add ice and water.

Try this tomorrow and see if you will not say that it is like discovering a wonderful new summer beverage.
